Compassion, Spirituality & Health
7th to 10th July 2013, University of Adelaide, Elder Hall.

You are invited to join this special bi-annual event focusing on the links between spirituality, religion, health and wellbeing. The 2013 conference will feature national and international presenters addressing the themes of compassion, giving, service, love and altruism and other related themes.

Professor Stephen Post, the keynote speaker, is a thought leader in the study of altruism, giving, love and compassion in the integrative context of scientific research, medicine, philosophy and spirituality. In 2001 he was invited by the philanthropist Sir John Templeton to become the Founding President of the Institute for Research on Unlimited Love (www.unlimitedloveinstitute.com). Professor Post has received various awards, such as the Hope in Healthcare Award for "Pioneering research and education in the field of unconditional love, altruism, compassion and service" (2008), the Pioneer Award for Lifetime Accomplishments in Healthcare from Health Care Chaplaincy of New York (2012), the Alzheimer Association’s National Board Award for "Distinguished Service" for education efforts with families throughout the United States (1998), and the "Top Notch" public speaker award from the Ohio Endowment for the Humanities (1997).

Share in this landmark conference examining the relationship between love, giving and happiness and the impact of compassionate care on health outcomes. For further information, newsletters and conference registration visit:

www.spiritualityhealth.org.au