Dear [First Name],

It’s been one year since your last gift to Stony Brook. Thanks to your past support, Stony Brook is entering an exciting time of growth.

Enrollment continues to rise, we have one of the most distinguished faculties in the world and breakthroughs from our research programs are changing lives and the world we all live in.

It’s because of your generosity that we can accomplish all this and more, but we still need your help.

Did you know that 67 percent of our students come from families who earn less than $75,000 per year? But thanks to you, close to half of our students graduate with zero debt.

With your support, we are positioned to continue cultivating our students’ ambitious ideas and their imaginative solutions and to develop the exceptional leaders of tomorrow.

Please renew your valuable support today by giving here, or calling us at (631) 632-4887 to make your gift.

Thank you for all you’ve done and for what you will help accomplish in the future.

With warm regards,

Paul Muite
