What is Wolfie Wallet?

When you arrive on campus one of the most important items you’ll receive is your Stony Brook ID card. Wolfie Wallet is a campus administered prepaid taxable declining balance debit account encoded on your ID. It is a safe and convenient way for students, faculty and staff to make food purchases from off-campus merchants, wash and dry your laundry, make purchases from vending machines, mail packages in the residential mailroom, purchase tickets through the USG ticket office, utilize print & copy services and shop on campus at dining and retail locations. Wolfie Wallet is not part of the meal plan. If you have money left over in your Wolfie Wallet account at the end of the semester, you won’t lose it! Wolfie Wallet rolls over from semester to semester. The money will remain in your account until you spend it, graduate or withdraw from the University.

Download the Campus Card App

The Campus Card App for Wolfie Wallet enables you to manage your account anywhere, anytime. You can:

- Add money
- Check your balance
- Report your ID card lost or stolen
- View your most recent transactions

Available in the Apple App store or through Google Play.

Printing

If you run out of your printing quota in SINC sites, it will automatically deduct from your Wolfie Wallet account.

In addition to printing on west campus at the Melville Library Main SINC site, Central Reading Room, North Reading Room, and Engineering 106, students can now use their Wolfie Wallet account to print on east campus at the Health Sciences Library Barry Coller lab, computer rooms and information commons. For more information about printing, go to: it.stonybrook.edu/services/printing.

The TLT Media Lab offers a poster printing service which can be paid for using Wolfie Wallet.
