Wednesday, September 28 - We're All From Somewhere Else: Becoming Latino in America. 1:00 - 2:15 PM, GLS/HDV Center Multipurpose Room (2nd Floor).

Wednesday, September 28 - Newsbreak en Español on Facebook Live Round Table/Video Conference: Colombia, War or Peace. 1:00 - 1:30 PM, Tune in Live on Facebook.com/Neeshbul. Organized by The Department of Hispanic Languages and Literature and The School of Journalism Co-sponsored by the Latin American and Caribbean Center and The Marie Colvin Center for International Reporting.

Tuesday, October 4 - We Are America: Hispanics and the "American Dream." 10:00 PM, James College Lounge. Come on over to James College for a presentation on the disadvantages faced by Hispanic Americans every day. Stick around for a taste of our musical culture where we will show you how to dance the basics of Bachata and Merengue. Sponsored by James College Hall Council.

Wednesday, October 5 - Hispanic Heritage Month Opening Ceremony. 1:00 - 2:00 PM, Student Activity Center Ballroom A. The theme is “Esta es nuestra historia / This is our story.” Proclamation presented by President Samuel L. Stanley. Please join our keynote speaker, Dr. Lori A. Flores, Assistant Professor of History as we celebrate our 27th Annual Opening Ceremony with our campus community and neighbors. Refreshments will be provided. All are invited.

Saturday, October 8 - Havana Cuba All-Stars. 8:00 PM, Staller Center for the Arts. The fabulous Havana Cuba All-Stars bring a high-energy, all-acoustic concert to Staller Center, drawing inspiration from traditional Cuban “son,” the Latin-American musical form. Main Stage $38, RenaissanceJazz sponsored by Renaissance Technologies

Thursday, October 13 - Not Ready to Make Nice: Guerrilla Girls in the Art World and Beyond Exhibition: Artist Talk. 4:00 PM, Talk will be held at the Wang Center Theatre. Exhibition: September 13 - October 22, 2016. Co-hosted by the Humanities Institute with additional support from the Art Department and Women’s and Gender Studies Department.

Friday, October 14 - Noche Latina. 8:00 PM, Yang Hall. Noche Latina is a program that teaches the different dances many Latin American countries have. You will get to see different videos of each dance: Bachata, Salsa/Rumba, Merengue, Dembow/Reggaeton, Cumbia, Flamenco, Jarabe, Mambo, and the Tango.

Monday, October 17 - Cuba Today: The Future is Now-- and it's Ours! 3:00 PM, LACS Seminar Room (N-320 SBS). Chris Clonan (Stony Brook '12) has an MA in Cuban Studies from Burlington College.

Wednesday, October 19 - A Conversation with Cristina Henríquez, Author of The Book of Unknown Americans: A novel. 4:00 PM, Sidney Geiber Auditorium, Student Activities Center. Author Cristina Henríquez of the first-year reading will share her insights about her work. Seating is limited so please arrive early to guarantee a seat. This event is free and open to the public. Sponsored by Undergraduate Colleges.

Wednesday, October 19 - Latinox: The Real Heritage. 7:00 PM, Dreiser College Classroom. This program will address the usage of terms like Hispanic and Latino/Latina to generalize different Spanish speaking people who's roots derive from a multitude of places throughout the world. Also a discussion about ways in which anyone, including Latino/Latinx people themselves, can respect the heritage and individuality of Latinx people by using the correct terms.

Thursday, October 20 - LACS at the Movies: Macario (1960; Mexico). 6:00 PM, Latin American and Caribbean Student Center. Premiere room SBS N-320. Discussion led by Zinnia Capo, History.

Tuesday, October 25 - The Life and Legacy of Sylvia Rivera: Film Screening and Discussion. 7:00 PM, Location TBD. A free screening of a documentary about Sylvia Rivera, a Latinx trans woman who fought for the rights of poor, homeless, and LGBT youth, and was a founder of the Gay Liberation Movement. A discussion of her life, work, and legacy will follow the screening. Sponsored by SBU Transgender Alliance.

Wednesday, October 26 - So you think you can Bachata? 12:00 PM, Brookhaven Residential Village. Discuss the history of Bachata leading to the history of Dominican Carnaval and discuss Dominican Republic before and after Haitian occupation in their country. End of event includes music and serving small food such as empanadas mofongo, monduras, platanos and possibly rice and beans.

Wednesday, October 26 - Precious Knowledge – Diversity Films Discussion Series. 7:30 PM, Tabler Center Blackbox. Arizona’s battle over ethnic studies in public schools, while students transform lawmakers push to eliminate the classes. Sponsored by Residential Programs Diversity & Inclusion Committee & Presidential Mini Grant.

Friday, October 28 - DEADLINE for Awards Application for LACS A. Sanchez Construction Corporation Scholarship Undergraduate Award of Academic Achievement and Hispanic Heritage Month Awards. Submit online via www.stonybrook.edu/hhm

Friday, October 28 - Mindfulness and Diversity: Mind-Body Approaches for Enhancing Awareness and Well-Being, an interdisciplinary conference. 9:00 AM - 5:00PM, Charles B. Wang Center. Sponsored by Department of Sociology and the Mind-Body Clinical Research Center and Stony Brook University’s Presidential Mini Grant.

Tuesday, November 1 - Day of the Dead/ Día de los muertos. 3:00 - 5:00 PM, LACS Lounge (SBS N-337). Come help prepare our altar of flowers and other decorations, and enjoy Mexican treats! We encourage you to bring a photo or remembrance of someone whose life you wish to celebrate.

Wednesday, November 2 - LACS Café. 1:00 – 2:00 PM, LACS Lounge (SBS N-337). A monthly coffee hour dedicated to building relationships among faculty and students interested in the history, culture and politics of Latin America and the Caribbean. Free coffee and delicious empanadas!

Wednesday, November 2 - Hispanic Heritage Month 27th Annual Awards Closing Ceremony and Annual Awards. 4:00 – 6:00 PM, Student Activity Center Ballroom A. This year’s theme: “Esta es nuestra historia / This is our Story.” Join us to celebrate and recognize the achievements and contributions of Faculty, Staff, and Students. Open to all. For donations or for ticket information call: 632-9851.

Wednesday, November 2 - Puertos para los Muertos - 8:00 PM, Schick College. Celebrate the dead and decorate your own calaveras (sugar skulls)! Participants will be able to learn Latin America tradition Dia de los muertos by remembering those they miss and decorate their own Calaveras. Sponsored by Schick College.

For more information visit us at www.stonybrook.edu/hhm