Successful Personal Statement for Graduate School I

A well-written personal statement enables you to persuasively present yourself to an admissions committee whose members have never met you. This is the first of a two-part workshop designed to assist students in brainstorming, drafting and revising their personal statement for graduate school. In this workshop, we will discuss the structure of an effective personal statement, as well as tips and guidelines to help you distinguish yourself from other applicants. We will also brainstorm possible “hooks” for your personal statement.

Date: Wednesday, October 22, 2014

Successful Personal Statement for Graduate School II

This is the second of a two-part workshop designed to assist students in brainstorming, drafting and revising their personal statement for graduate school. Students must bring a rough draft of a personal statement with them, as the emphasis will be on the revision and focusing processes. There will be a discussion of best practices, and students will have the opportunity to do guided work on their personal statements.

Date: Wednesday, November 5, 2014
Time: 2:30pm-3:30pm
Place: SBS N620 SINC Site
