Yumi Kurosawa 13-stringed-Koto & 20-stringed-Koto

Kurosawa received first prize at National Koto competition for students, Japan in 1989 and 1992. She performed a duet with Evjan Rattai of Prague Cello Ensemble at Suntory Hall, Tokyo in 1993. Performance on NHK TV Genjimonogatari WAKANA. Following extensive performances in Japan, she began performing in worldwide in concert tours to Canada, Germany, Malaysia, Russia, and United States. In 2002, she moved to New York in pursuit of new innovative collaborations with artists and musicians. She had held Yumi Kurosawa Koto Recital at Weill Recital Hall at Carnegie Hall in 2006. She is currently producing her own compilation of original compositions and performing as a solo artist and collaborator in NYC. Born in Morioka, Japan, Yumi Kurosawa began studying the 13-stringed-Koto from the age of three under her parents, Kazuo and Chikako Kurosawa. At the age of fifteen she was drawn to the contemporary sound and technique of the 20-stringed-Koto and began studying the 20-stringed-Koto under Nanae Yoshimura, and classical Koto music under Sosui Yoshimura.
