“Can't Get No Satisfaction!:
The Continued US Embargo and the Prospects for Cuban Entrepreneurialism"

Ted Henken teaches in the Departments of Sociology and Black and Latino Studies at Baruch College, and is a renown expert on contemporary Cuba. His most recent book, Entrepreneurial Cuba: The Changing Policy Landscape offers a provocative view of economic reforms and entrepreneurial response under Raúl Castro, and what the U.S. can do to encourage this dynamic.

Wednesday, April 20th   1:00pm
N-320; SBS Building
Refreshments served

Stony Brook University
Latin American & Caribbean Studies Center