SESSION III

Panel V: Landscapes of Labor: Migration, State Intervention, and Capitalism
Chair: Paul Gootenberg, Department of History, Stony Brook University
Lecture Room (321 B)

Emma Lawlor, Wake Forest University
“A Step from the Test Tube or the Domain of the Wooden Plow? The State, the Peasantry, and the Industrialization of Mexican Agriculture”

Gregory Rosenthal, Stony Brook University
“Polynesian Explorers in Latin America: Work, Body, and Environment”

John (J.D.) Roberts, University of Massachusetts at Amherst
“Bolivia’s Coca Headache: The Agroyungas Program, Inflation, Coca, Campesinos and Capitalism in Bolivia”

Nicolás Gómez Echeverri, Universidad de los Andes de Bogotá
“Pintura Localizada, abstracción y paisaje en el arte colombiano”

Panel VI: Geopolitical Bodies: Silence, Temporality, and Metamorphosis
Chair: Paul Firbas, Hispanic Languages & Literature, Stony Brook University
Conference Room (313)

Susy Sánchez, University of Notre Dame
“Depicting Political Metamorphosis, Metamorphosing Political Bodies: Susan Meiselas in Nicaragua, 1978-1979”

Gabriela González, Stony Brook University
“The Politics of Temporality: an Analysis of Leftist Youth Politics and Generational Contention”

Ericka D. Herbias Ruiz, Stony Brook University
“Formaciones de Discurso en El Zorro de Arriba y el Zorro de Abajo: El caso del Compadre Esteban de la Cruz y su espera por el uso de la palabra”

5:00-5:45 Reception (Gallery & Main Hall)

We would like to extend a warm thanks to …
All attending guests, chairpersons and sponsors. With special thanks to this year’s Conference Director, Carlos Gomez and the Organizing Committee, Anna Shilova, Mark Rice, Froylan Encisco, Andrés Estefane, Ying-Ying Chu, Gabriela Gonzalez and Carla Neckles.
Also, Anna Shilova for the poster design.
Latin American & Caribbean Studies Center
10th Annual Graduate Conference
April 8, 2011

Changing Landscapes: The Intersections of Culture, Politics, and Environment in Latin America
Stony Brook University, Manhattan Campus
387 Park Avenue South at 28th Street, 3rd Floor
www.stonybrook.edu/lacc

9:00-9:30 AM  Registration (Main Hall)
Breakfast Reception

9:30-10:00 Conference Opening and Welcome (Lecture Room-321B)
Paul Firbas, Director of the Latin American and Caribbean Studies Center at Stony Brook University

10:00-11:30 SESSION I
Panel I: Production and Reproduction of Spaces: Bringing the State Back In Chair: Eric Zolov, Department of History, Franklin & Marshall College
Lecture Room (321 B)
Carlos Donoso Rojas, Universidad Andrés Bello
“Crisis Social, Recuperación Económica y Protección al Entorno, una relación asimétrica: el caso de Tarapacá, Chile (1950-1970)”

Mark Rice, Stony Brook University
“Tremors and Tourism: Cusco after the 1950 Earthquake”

Regina Casey, University of Texas at Austin
“Transportation Development and Inequality: Questioning Political Narratives and Possibilities for Social Mobility Surrounding the Santo Domingo Metro”

Zaida Corniel, Stony Brook University
“Sueños de salitre: “el extrañamiento” ante la reescritura de una ciudad turística en el Caribe”

Panel II: Between Scylla and Charybdis: Assessing Economic Impacts
Chair: Silvio Rendon, Economics Department, Stony Brook University
Conference Room (313)

Heather Anderson, Caroline Bauer, Josie Baum, Alioune B. Dia, Megan Marini, Lauren Racusin, Vanessa Smith, Jeff Yuen, Columbia University

Arancha Sanz Alvarez, Stony Brook University
“Latinoamérica como Escenario en los Viajes de la Baronesa de Wilson”

Pamela Neumann, University of Texas at Austin
“Estado Dividido: Environmental Injustice in an Era of Neoliberal Governmentality. The Case of La Oroya, Peru”

11:30-12:30 Keynote Presentation (Lecture Room-321B)
Chris Boyer, Department of History, University of Illinois at Chicago
“The Cycles of Mexican Environmental History”

12:30-1:30 PM Lunch (Gallery & Main Hall)

1:30-3:00 SESSION II
Panel III: On Sustainability: Experiences, Essays, Programs
Chair: Liliana M. Dávalos, Ecology and Evolution, Stony Brook University
Lecture Room (321 B)

Ariela Zycherman, Columbia University
“What’s the ‘Matter’ with Dussel’s Twenty Theses?”

Amanda L. Bradshaw, Columbia University
“Emerging Geographies of Environmental Participation: Agenda 21 Local in Rio de Janeiro”

Meredith Joy Van Natta, University of California at Berkeley
“Moving Mountains: Understanding ‘Sustainability’ Discourses in Andean Peru”

Panel IV: Science as a Force Field: Critical Lessons
Chair: Jared Farmer, Department of History, Stony Brook University
Conference Room (313)

Madeline Eckenrode, Wake Forest University

Florence Arancibia, Stony Brook University
“Transgenic Crops and Agrochemicals: Scientific and Regulatory Controversy in Argentina”

Candace Outre, University of South Florida
“Culture, Linguistics and Medicine: Analysis of Linguistic Data in Capoeira Angola Songs”

Patricio Zambrano-Barragán, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
“Delayed Modernities: A Genealogy of Hydroelectric Megaprojects in Amazonia”

3:00-3:15 Coffee Break (Gallery & Main Hall)