Sponsored by the
Stony Brook University
Philosophy Department

And

Muhlenberg College
Women's and Gender Studies Program
Co-organized by
Eduardo Mendieta
And
Marcia Morgan
THINKING THE PLURAL:
RICHARD J. BERNSTEIN’S CONTRIBUTIONS TO AMERICAN PHILOSOPHY

September 26th-27th, 2014
Symposium Held at Stony Brook University, Main Campus
Stony Brook, NY
214 Harriman Hall

FRIDAY, September 26th
2:30-2:45 pm Eduardo Mendieta, Welcome Address
2:45 pm Steven Levine (University of Massachusetts-Boston)
3:45 pm Megan Craig (Stony Brook University),
“Thinking Violence with Richard J. Bernstein”
4:45 pm Coffee Break
5:00 pm Chris Long (Penn State University),
“Ethics in a Digital Age”
6:00 pm Plenary Lecture:
Edward S. Casey (Stony Brook University)
7:00 pm Reception
7:30 pm Dinner at Curry Club
10 Woods Corner Road
Setauket, NY 11733

SATURDAY, September 27th
8:45 am Marcia Morgan (Muhlenberg College), Opening Remarks
9:00 am Roy Brand (Bezalel Academy of Art and Design), “Philosophy as Therapy”
9:45 am Rick Lee (DePaul University),
“Duns Scotus as Materialist”
10:45 am Coffee Break
11:00 am Karen Ng (Vanderbilt University),
“Life and Spirit: Hegel’s Feminist Modernism”
12:00 pm Espen Hammer (Temple University),
“Husserl and the Inner-Outer Distinction”
1:00 pm Lunch
2:45 pm Lauren Barthold (Gordon College),
3:45 pm Jonathan Pickle (Ph.D. New School),
“Bernstein and Markus on Arendt’s Distinction between the Social and the Political”
4:45 pm Coffee Break
5:00 pm Katie Terezakis (Rochester Institute of Technology), “Idealism and Finitude in American Philosophy: The Case of John William Miller”
6:00 pm Plenary Lecture:
Richard J. Bernstein (New School for Social Research)
7:00 pm Reception
7:30 pm Dinner at Holiday Inn Express
3130 Nesconset Highway
Centereach, NY 11720