Bodies and Race Symposium

May 5th, 4:00 PM Harriman Hall Room 137
Lewis Gordon, University of Connecticut
An Africana Existential Phenomenology of Bodies, Embodiment, and Race
Reception and Dinner to Follow Harriman Hall Room 201

May 6th, 9:30 AM Harriman Hall Room 214
Kris Sealey, Fairfield University
The Composite Community: Thinking Through Fanon's Critique of a Narrow Nationalism
9:30-11:00 Kris Sealey and Graduate student commentator

Namita Goswami, Indiana State University
We Flesh: Body, Animal, Heterogeneity
11:30-1:00 Namita Goswami and Graduate student commentator
1:00-2:30 Lunch

George Yancy, Emory University
The Black Body and the Weight of the White Gaze
2:30-4:00 George Yancy and Graduate Student commentator
4:30-5:30 Panel Speakers: Tracey Walter, Chair of Africana Studies and a representative from Suffolk County Human Rights Commission, Graduate students

Co-sponsored with Africana Studies, Women's and Gender Studies, The Humanities Institute