Turkana Basin Institute Award Announcement:
The Turkana Basin Institute ("TBI") at Stony Brook University ("SBU") invites applications for the TBI award to assist funding to study abroad at TBI in Kenya during the active Fall and Spring semesters.

Purpose: To support student participation in the TBI Field Schools.

Award Amounts:
- Five awards in the amount of $1,000 each will be granted to students applying for the TBI Origins Field School per active semester.
- Five awards in the amount of $1,000 each will be granted to students applying for the TBI Environmental Change and Sustainability Field School per active semester.

Eligibility:
- Applied to one of TBI’s study abroad programs through Stony Brook University
- Demonstrated high academic achievement as evidenced by undergraduate GPA and letters of recommendation

Application Procedures:
- Complete the SBU study abroad application as directed on the Study Abroad webpage: http://www.stonybrook.edu/commcms/studyabroad/outgoing/app_process.html
- Complete the TBI Award application form on the TBI Study Abroad webpage: http://www.kenyastudyabroad.org/tbi-award-application/

Applications are due by May 1st for the coming Fall semester and October 15th for the coming Spring semester to be considered. The recipient will be chosen by the Director.

Awards will be applied directly to your SBU student account to reduce the cost of the program fee for the study abroad program.
