Undergraduate Bulletin XXIX

The information in this publication, which pertains to academic years 2007-2008 and 2008-2009, is accurate as of Spring 2007.

Circumstances may require that a given course be withdrawn or that alternate offerings be made. Names of instructors for courses and days and times of class sessions are given in the class schedule, available to students at registration, and on the Web at http://www.stonybrook.edu/solarsystem. All applicants are reminded that Stony Brook University is subject to the policies promulgated by the Board of Trustees of the State University of New York. Fees and charges are set forth in accordance with such policies and may well change in response to alterations in policy or actions of the legislature during the two-year period covered by this publication.

The official Undergraduate Bulletin is published online and is updated and archived each fall and spring semester. Any information in a printed copy of the 2007-2009 Undergraduate Bulletin may be superseded by the appropriate online version. For the most up-to-date version of the Bulletin, visit the official Bulletin at http://www.stonybrook.edu/ugbulletin/current/.

The University reserves the right to amend the Undergraduate Bulletin at any time and without notice to reflect modifications in policy, law, or regulation. Potential alterations might include, by way of example only, degree requirements, course offerings, fees, and calendar listings.

This publication can be made available in alternative format upon request. It is also available on the Web at: http://www.stonybrook.edu/ugbulletin.

The Undergraduate Bulletin was produced by Kane Gillespie, Assistant Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; Assistant Editor Elizabeth Conklin; and University Communications: Yvette St. Jacques, Assistant Vice President; Joanne Morici, Director of Editorial Services; Karen Leibowitz, Art Director; Lynne Roth, Editor. Cover: Milton Glaser, Inc.

Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action

Stony Brook University does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, sex, color, national origin, age, disability, marital status, or status as a disabled or Vietnam-era veteran in its education programs or employment. Also, the State of New York prohibits discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation.

Discrimination is unlawful. If you are a student or an employee of Stony Brook University and you consider yourself to be the victim of illegal discrimination, you may file a grievance in writing with the Affirmative Action Office within 45 calendar days of the alleged discriminatory act. If you choose to file a complaint within the University, you do not lose your right to file with an outside enforcement agency such as the State Division of Human Rights or the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Any questions concerning this policy or allegations of noncompliance should be directed to:

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), which became effective January 26, 1992, requires that individuals with disabilities be afforded equal opportunity in the areas of public services and programs, employment, transportation, and communications. Prior to this federal legislation, the University had been subject to similar provisions under Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. In compliance with the ADA's broader definition of disabilities, the University makes concerted efforts to provide reasonable accommodation and access to services and programs.
