LHD
Living Learning in Human Sexual and Gender Development
LHD 101 Human Development Seminar
An introduction to human sexual and gender development issues. The course focuses on topics relevant to the campus experience—e.g., male and female roles in the classroom, college students and the crisis of AIDS and sexually transmitted diseases, and sexual orientation. These issues are examined from an interdisciplinary perspective.
Prerequisite: Permission of minor coordinator required for students who do not reside in Eisenhower College.
1 credit

LHD 301 Human Sexual and Gender Development Issues
An examination of the human life cycle—infancy and childhood, youth and adolescence, mid-life and aging—with regard to gender and sexual self-concepts. Semester Supplements to this Bulletin contain description when course is offered. May be repeated as the topic changes.
1 credit

LHD 302 Colloquium in Human Sexual and Gender Development
Sexual and gender development issues such as sexual orientation, gender development in children, and the childhood experience. Semester Supplements to this Bulletin contain description when course is offered. May be repeated once as the topic changes.
1 credit

LHD 305, 306 HIV Reduction in the Campus Context
First course of a two-semester sequence addressing issues of HIV transmission and risk reduction, including identifying opportunities to discuss risk and promote risk reduction, and supporting the process of behavior change. Examination of the history of the AIDS epidemic in the U.S. and around the world.
Prerequisites to LHD 305: Permission of instructor
Prerequisites to LHD 306: Permission of instructor
2 credits per course

LHD 307, 308 Laboratory in HIV Reduction in the Campus Context
A forum for discussion of the application of material learned in LHD 305 and 306. The course focuses on the development of skills necessary to accomplish education and behavior changes among the peers of course participants, and monitors individual progress toward that end.
Prerequisite to LHD 307: Permission of instructor
Corequisites to LHD 307: LHD 305 and 307; permission of instructor
Corequisite to LHD 308: LHD 306
