

Stony Brook University College of Arts and Sciences

The Department of Africana Studies presents

Philip Roessler

The College of William and Mary

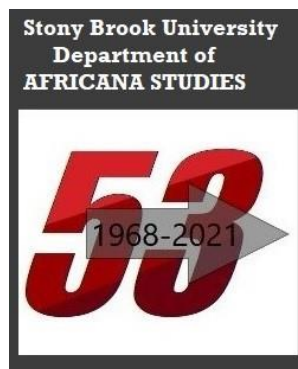

Friday, November 12th 4PM
on Zoom

<https://stonybrook.zoom.us/j/98109977660?pwd=YmxyK1h3UWE4OTNhaXc5ZG90NnBSQT09>

The Treacherous Road out of the Coup-Civil War Trap: Sudan in Comparative Perspective

Bio: Philip Roessler is the Margaret Hamilton Associate Professor of Government at William & Mary where he also serves as the Director of the Africa Research Center. His research and teaching focus on the political economy of development, civil war, comparative politics, and African politics. He is the author of two books on the causes of civil war, including Ethnic Politics and State Power in Africa: The Logic of the Coup-Civil War Trap.

This talk is part of Africana Studies' Black Pulsations series supported by a grant from the office of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion