

Masks 2020 Marta Baumiller

Since April I have sewn over 300 masks for friends and healthcare workers. In late May we joined in many protests to hear speeches and chants of hope and rebellion. I designed masks and hats in order to show solidarity with the protestors and help maintain social distance practices. As an artist, I believe its important to offer tangible as well as symbolic support and hope that this movement keeps growing and affecting real social change.

