

MUSIC

The Department of Music combines the most refined professional training of the conservatory with the intellectual and cultural breadth of a comprehensive research institution. Our students and faculty engage in interdisciplinary activities to connect the arts and sciences.

PROGRAMS

- Bachelor of Arts in Music
- Minor in Music

SKILLS YOU'LL ACQUIRE

- Abstract and formal reasoning skills
- Technical and analytical writing skills
- Extensive performance experience
- Rhetorical skills
- Time management skills
- Public speaking skills

Visit our website:

Stony Brook University
College of Arts and Sciences

Elvina Liu '23
BA Music

"SBU is home to a range of the world's most sought-after music faculty and provides the classic American college experience that I likely would not experience at a music conservatory. Being able to connect with a large, diverse community and indulge in various interests outside of music was especially important to my development and growth as a person in general."

A SAMPLING OF OUR COURSES

- Rock, Popular Music and Society
- Imaginative Worlds of Opera
- Music Since 1900
- Sound Structures

CAREERS TO EXPLORE

Recent graduates have won national prizes in performance and have gone on to graduate study. Some have also pursued certification in music education and teach at many schools throughout New York State.

Graduates have also gone on to work as deans, directors, and chancellors at such institutions as:

- The Peabody Conservatory of Music
- The Conservatory of Music of Puerto Rico

As performers in such leading ensembles as:

- The Chicago Symphony Orchestra
- The Philadelphia Orchestra
- Syracuse Symphony
- Collegium Musicum den Haag
- The New Millennium Ensemble
- YarnWire
- Icicle Creek Trio
- The Metropolitan Opera

And as arts administrators at such institutions as:

- Chamber Music America
- The 92nd Street Y
- The Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in Cleveland, Ohio

@SBUArtsSciences