

The Festival of the Moving Body

October 16 and 17, 2014 10AM-6PM

*Charles B. Wang Center
Stony Brook University*

*Keynotes,
Research, Panels
Workshops, and Film*

Registration is Now Open Online
www.festivalofthemovingbody.org

Community and Alums:
$30/for 2 full days
$20/for 1 full day

SBU Faculty, Staff, Graduate
Undergraduate Students:
FREE, with registration and SBU ID.

Translating Human Imagination, Sensation, Movement, Interaction and Adaptability

Thursday, October 16 10AM

Opening Remarks:

SBU President Samuel L. Stanley, Jr., MD

Provost Lecture and Opening Keynote:

“Who is (Not) Human?”

Joan D. Frosch, PhD, U of Florida, Gainesville

Friday, October 17 10AM

Keynote: “Space, Place Memory in Movement”

Gabri Christa, Filmmaker, Choreographer, Director

Friday, October 17 4-6PM

Closing Keynote: Carrying Across: Creativity as Translation

Steven T. Dahlberg, Director, International Centre for Creativity and Imagination

“Work in Progress” Film Screening: Foreign Puzzle

Director, Producer, Editor and Co-Cinematographer, Chithra Jeyaram

Responding Panel: Steven T. Dalhberg, Moderator

Carol Baldwin Breast Center Faculty and Staff

Lily Cushenbery, PhD, SBU’s College of Business

Over 30 Panels, Research Presentations,
Workshops, and Film Screenings

For More Information and to Register online:
www.festivalofthemovingbody.org

Photo Credit: Elizabeth Silver

Performer: Todd Van Slambrouck

From “Giants in Small, Shallow Pools”, Director/Choreographer Amy Yopp Sullivan

Center for Dance, Movement and Somatic Learning