In order to ensure the safety of our guests and associates during this time, we have created a catering menu of breakfast, lunch, snack and beverage options... all individually packaged for your protection.
Welcome to CulinArt Catering Services at Stony Brook University. It is our privilege to serve you. This catering guide has been designed with your safety and well-being in mind. All menu items are individually portioned for personal consumption. Please feel free to contact us for any special arrangements or items you may not find in our guide.

You can rest assured that we are taking every precaution to keep you safe, including:
• specialized pandemic & COVID-19 safety training completed by all associates.
• enforcing strict cleaning, sanitizing and disinfecting protocols.
• conducting temperature and symptoms screening for all associates.
• providing Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) for all associates.
• ensuring CDC guidelines for handwashing and hygiene etiquette.
• temporarily discontinuing use of china and washable wares.
• enforcing social distancing standards in our kitchens and front-of-house.

To further ensure the health and safety of our guests and patrons, all catering set-ups will include:
• touchless hand-sanitizer and/or sani-wipes
• individually wrapped disposable utensils
• pc condiments

Note that all listed prices are per person, unless otherwise noted. There is a minimum order of 10 people (unless otherwise specified) or $50.00 minimum, whichever total dollar amount is greater. Prices include delivery, set-up, break down and pick-up.

To order catering services please contact CulinArt at (631) 969-6938 or email lbattiste@culinartinc.com.

24 hours advance notice is typically required for CulinArt to satisfy your dining needs. Our objective is to accommodate your needs; to ensure selection and availability, we request that functions be scheduled with as much advance notice as possible. Of course, we will make every effort to satisfy your dining service needs with reasonable notice. Please notify us as soon as possible of any cancellations to avoid being charged unnecessarily.

Regular catering service hours are 7:00 AM - 4:30 PM Monday thru Friday. Orders deliverable during regular hours will receive no service charge. Catered orders scheduled outside of regular business hours may receive an additional overtime rate charge. Orders cancelled 24 hours or more prior to specified set up time will not incur a cancellation fee. Orders cancelled within 24 hours of specified set up time will be billed a cancellation charge: 50% of the total event cost.

Responsibility for catering equipment provided with your order lies with the individual authorizing the order. All equipment must be returned with the order. CulinArt will pick-up all equipment at the time specified by you. Any equipment removed from the original drop-off location must be returned for pick-up prior to the time specified. Any equipment that is lost, broken or removed from the service site will be charged to the individual who authorized the original order at CulinArt’s replacement cost.

Make the choice that’s right for you.
