La Tunda: a possible (mis)translation for understanding cuy-r...ness in the Andes

La Tunda is a mythical and monstrous creature present in the Afro descendant cultures of Colombia and Ecuador. This talks studes this figure as a possible (mis)translation of queer politics in the Andes, linking its representation to the concept of “contradictory heterofaggeneity”. Different version from both, literature and oral mythology would be presented in order to analyze things such as racism, rape, and childhood from a critical perspective.
