In Cases of Sexual and Interpersonal Violence
Students have the right:

1. To report to the police;
2. To have Stony Brook take your report seriously;
3. Not to be pressured by Stony Brook to report or participate in any investigation or process;
4. For Stony Brook’s process to be fair, impartial and provide an opportunity to be heard;
5. To be treated with dignity and to receive from Stony Brook courteous, fair and respectful healthcare and counseling services;
6. To report free from the suggestion that you should have acted differently or that you are at fault;
7. Not to be required to unnecessarily repeat your account of the incident;
8. To be protected from retaliation;
9. To have access to at least one level of an appeal;
10. To be accompanied by an advisor during all meetings and hearings; and
11. To exercise your civil rights and practice your religion without interference by Stony Brook’s process.
