Stony Brook University’s top priority remains the health, safety and well-being of our community. Please note that some of the programs and services outlined in this handbook may be impacted by COVID-19 and any subsequent changes to New York State guidelines regarding the safe reopening of schools.

For the most current updates on how Stony Brook is working to ensure your health and safety, for student-specific FAQs and more detailed guidance, visit stonybrook.edu/strongertogether.
Dear Seawolves,

Welcome to Stony Brook University! We are very pleased that you have joined our vibrant and diverse campus community.

In this handbook, you will find important information to help you have a successful experience at SBU. Please carefully review it and familiarize yourself with our campus resources, policies, and your rights and responsibilities as a student.

As a new student, we offer many ways you can connect with our community and help ease your transition to SBU. If you’re a first year student, the Undergraduate Colleges (UGCs) are small communities where you will meet other students with similar interests and have access to customized advising. For transfer students, several services are available to assist with your transition, including general and major academic advising, tutoring, and a specialized transfer course called ADV 101. For graduate student, your academic department and the Graduate School offer an array of services designed to help you succeed.

I strongly encourage you to attend our Involvement Fairs and connect with our community. Now is the time to start building friendships with other Seawolves and become more acquainted with the campus. Whether you join one of our 325+ student clubs and organizations, cultural groups, graduate student clubs, or intramural sports teams, or become involved in your residence hall community or the Commuter Student Association, there is something for everyone! To find out what’s available, visit stonybrook.edu/sbengaged for real time information about upcoming programs and events.

Our Student Affairs team is excited to work with you and ensure your success at Stony Brook. For more information, undergraduate students can visit stonybrook.edu/studentsuccess while graduate students can visit stonybrook.edu/grad. Reach out whenever you have a question or concern. We’re here to help!

Congratulations on becoming a Seawolf! Enjoy your time at Stony Brook.

Sincerely,

Rick Gatteau

Your SuccessBook

This SuccessBook has been designed to help you make the best of your college experience. It features important information about advising, how to succeed and where to turn to for support. In addition, we’ve included a special section — our “A to Z” guide — to help you learn all the ins and outs of Stony Brook University (SBU).

Although this book contains a wealth of information, it is important that you take advantage of other resources, including the For Students Web page (stonybrook.edu/students), faculty, staff, your peers, campus resources, the Undergraduate Bulletin (stonybrook.edu/bulletin) or Graduate Bulletin (stonybrook.edu/sb/graduatebulletin) and the detailed Student Success site (stonybrook.edu/studentsuccess). The more you take charge of your Stony Brook experience, the better and more valuable that experience will be.

Thank you for choosing to continue your educational journey at Stony Brook. We hope this is a year of growth, good health, accomplishment and fun for you.
One of the most important resources for any undergraduate student is academic advising. There are several different advising units on campus, which can be divided into five major categories: Undergraduate College (first-year students), Academic and Transfer Advising Services (advising for transfers, sophomores, juniors and seniors), College of Engineering and Applied Sciences (all CEAS students), Special Group Advising (EOP/AIM, Honors College, WISE, University Scholars, Athletics and Pre-Professional Advising) and Major/Minor Department Advising. It is vital for students to meet with advisors early and often. Advisors will help you plan your schedules and ensure you are taking the courses you need to graduate on time. For more on the various advising units, visit stonybrook.edu/sb/academichelp. Here is a look at what you can expect from advising as you move from freshman to sophomore year and beyond.

Your First Year and the Undergraduate Colleges
The Undergraduate Colleges (UGC) are designed to create small academic and social communities, which tailor the first-year experience for students who have similar interests. They offer more than academic advising; they create a community to help students in all aspects of college life.
Many of your experiences will be customized for you through your College. Each incoming freshman is assigned to one of three Undergraduate Colleges: Social Justice, Equity and Ethics (SJE), located in Mendelsohn Community; Creativity, Technology and Innovation (CTI), housed in Roosevelt Community, and Global Health, Wellness and Community (GWC), part of H Community. While each College has its own activities and personality, there are many experiences that will be the same for every first-year student:

- A strong support and academic advising network to help you settle in, set academic goals, select classes and succeed both inside and outside the classroom.
- An exciting curriculum that includes two one-credit seminars, a first-year reading assignment and a UGC-specific research project.
- Opportunities for close interactions with faculty and staff.
- Leadership opportunities and ways to represent your UGC.

The Undergraduate College Advising Office is located in the Stony Brook Union, Suite 111. Please stop by if you have any questions or call (631) 632-4378. Visit stonybrook.edu/ucolleges for the latest news.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

You chose Stony Brook University and Stony Brook chose you because:

1. You are smart and no stranger to hard work.
2. You are interested in a broad range of ideas and perspectives.
3. You are an ambitious self-starter who doesn’t need an external push to move.
4. You expect and appreciate a challenge.
5. You learn from your mistakes.

Getting an education from Stony Brook University is like running a marathon. Earning quality grades takes good preparation, high energy, persistence and passion for the task at hand. But you love to learn. That’s why you’re here. That’s why we’re all here. Let’s learn together.
Academic and Transfer Advising Services
Academic and Transfer Advising Services, located in Suite 105, Stony Brook Union, provides general advising for transfers, sophomores, juniors and seniors; helps students develop their academic plans for graduation; and works with students in academic difficulty. Advisors help evaluate transfer credits and serve as a central communicator regarding academic deadlines, policies and events for all undergraduates. For assistance along your path toward graduation, call (631) 632-7082, option 2, or send an email with questions to advising@stonybrook.edu. Also, visit us on the Web at stonybrook.edu/advising.

Transfer Students
Transfer students enter Stony Brook as freshmen, sophomores, juniors or seniors, depending upon the number of credits transferred. All new transfers are strongly encouraged to enroll in ADV 101 — Advising Seminar for New Transfers. ADV 101 is required for all new international students. This weekly, one-credit seminar is taught by an Academic Advisor or professional staff member and provides opportunities to build connections on campus and obtain the tools to succeed academically.

The Sophomore Year
Once you have earned at least 24 credits, you are considered a sophomore. To stay on track for graduation, you will need to declare a major once you have earned 45 credits toward your degree. To help in the major selection process, be sure to take time to review the list of all 200 majors, minors and combined-degree programs at stonybrook.edu/academics.

The Junior Year
Upon earning 57 credits, you are considered a junior. Check your online degree progress report, which reviews all of your general education and major and minor requirements to make sure that you are on track to graduate. You can access the report via SOLAR. Also, you should visit the Career Center and attend programs focused on finding internships and writing a résumé.

The Senior Year
After earning 85 credits, you are a senior and soon-to-be graduate! Whether you are planning to graduate in December, January, May or
KEYS TO FINISHING IN 4

Remember these steps to help you stay on schedule and graduate on time:

• Complete an academic plan detailing what you need to accomplish to graduate in 4 years.
• Register on time. If you wait to register, a class you need may be filled.
• Read your degree progress report on SOLAR.
• Meet with your major advisor as soon as possible to map out courses.
• Meet at least once a semester with an Academic Advisor.

August, now is the time to focus your attention on completing course work and investigating career or graduate school options.

College of Engineering and Applied Sciences (CEAS)
The CEAS Undergraduate Student Office provides these services to all students enrolled in, or intending to pursue, a CEAS program: general education advising, major/minor advising, major entry requirement advising, academic standing/appeals, transfer credit evaluation, guidance on academic integrity, internships/career planning, scholarships, tutoring for introductory CEAS courses and peer mentoring. The office is located at 231 Engineering. Call (631) 632-8381 for assistance.
Special Group Advising

In addition, students from various special groups receive advising from their respective areas, including:

Athletics — The Goldstein Family Student-Athlete Development Center provides academic, career and personal development services for student-athletes. An Academic Advisor is assigned to work with each team.

175 Sports Complex, (631) 632-4952

Educational Opportunity Program (EOP/AIM) — Counselors support students during their entire collegiate career. Each student is assigned a counselor.

W-3520 Melville Library, (631) 632-7090

Health Sciences — Students with majors in a health sciences school can seek advice from the Health Sciences Office of Student Services.

Room 271, Health Sciences Center Level 2, (631) 444-2111

Honors College — Provides comprehensive academic and support services for Stony Brook’s Honors College students.

Suite 111 Stony Brook Union, (631) 632-4378

Pre-Professional Advising — The Pre-Professional Advising staff works with students who are interested in pursuing graduate studies in law or the health professions, including medical, optometry, podiatry and veterinary. For more information, visit stonybrook.edu/prehealth and stonybrook.edu/prelaw.

Suite 105 Stony Brook Union, (631) 632-7080

University Scholars — Provides advising for students in the University Scholars Program.

Suite 111 Stony Brook Union, (631) 632-4378

Women in Science and Engineering (WISE) — Provides academic and support services for students in the WISE program throughout their collegiate career.

230 Heavy Engineering, (631) 632-6947

Major/Minor Department Advising — In addition, students with a declared major/minor should visit their major (and minor, if applicable) department advisor each semester to make sure they are on the right track for fulfilling departmental requirements. For more information, visit stonybrook.edu/bulletin.
Academic Integrity

All Stony Brook students are expected to follow the Academic Integrity policies. Please familiarize yourself with them by visiting stonybrook.edu/academicintegrity and clicking on “Policies and Procedures.”

The following is a list of general parameters that define academic dishonesty. While these definitions include specific examples, the list of examples is not all-inclusive.

Cheating — Intentionally using or attempting to use unauthorized assistance, materials, electronic devices, information or study aids in any academic exercise; or preventing, or attempting to prevent, another from using authorized assistance, materials, etc.
• Using unauthorized notes, study aids or information on an examination.
• Altering a graded work after it has been returned — then submitting the work for re-grading.
• Allowing another person to do your work and submitting that work under your name, or having someone else take an exam for you.
• Copying answers from someone else.
• Having in your possession without permission, any tests, notes or property belonging to or generating from faculty, staff or students.
• Talking during an exam, regardless of what you are talking about.
• Working together with others on a take-home exam.
• Taking a test or doing an assignment for someone else.
• Willfully offering to a student answers or information related to tests and examinations.

Plagiarism — Intentionally or knowingly representing the words or ideas of another as your own in any academic exercise.
• Submitting material that in part or whole is not entirely your own work without attributing those same portions to their correct source.
• Copying from any source without quotation marks and the appropriate documentation.
• Re-wording an idea found in a source, but then omitting the documentation.
• Copying a paper, or portion of a paper, that someone else has written.
Fabrication — Intentional and unauthorized falsification or invention of any information or citation in any academic exercise.

- Presenting data that were not gathered in accordance with standard guidelines defining the appropriate methods for collecting or generating data, and failing to include an accurate account of the method by which the data were gathered or collected.
- Citing nonexistent or irrelevant articles.

Obtaining an Unfair Advantage — Attempting to gain unauthorized advantage over fellow students in any academic exercise.

- Gaining or providing unauthorized access to examination materials.
- Lying about the need for an extension for an exam or paper.
- Continuing to write even when time is up during an exam.
- Stealing, destroying, defacing or keeping library materials for your own use or with the purpose of depriving others of their use.

Falsification of Records and Official Documents — Misrepresenting, falsifying or tampering with, or attempting to tamper with, any portion of an academic transcript, record, etc., for yourself or for another.

- Tampering with computer records.
- Forging a faculty/staff signature on any University document.

Unauthorized Access — Unauthorized access to computerized academic or administrative records or systems.

- Viewing/altering computer records; modifying computers.
- Releasing or dispensing information gained via unauthorized access.
- Interfering with the use/availability of computer systems or information.

Electronic Devices — All cell phones, calculators or any kind of electronic devices should be turned completely off during an exam and put in a closed purse or backpack. Note: Even if a student does not answer a ringing cell phone during an exam, it can be considered academic dishonesty for not having it turned off.

For more information about academic dishonesty, consult the Undergraduate Bulletin (stonybrook.edu/bulletin) or the Academic Integrity website at stonybrook.edu/academicintegrity.

Students are expected to follow all Academic Judiciary policies for online and in-person classes.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS AND TUTORING RESOURCES

Take advantage of the free services (tutoring and review sessions) provided by trained staff with proven success records to help you improve your academic performance. The Academic Success and Tutoring Center is your one-stop resource to help you find the tutors or training you need to excel. Visit stonybrook.edu/tutoring to see all available services or to schedule a tutoring appointment.
As a member of our community, you will wear many hats: student, volunteer, Seawolf, friend, club member. Being a responsible student member of the Stony Brook community requires commitment. On the following pages, you will find an overview of some of your additional responsibilities, as well as your student rights. It is up to you to make yourself familiar with these rights and responsibilities so that your college experience will be everything you expect it to be and more.

We care not only about the education you receive, but also about your personal growth, physical health and safety, and adjustment to campus life. To that end, the University offers many programs, departments, events and resources to ensure that you have the support and tools you need to prosper and be happy and healthy. Many of those programs are listed in this section, and more can be found online at stonybrook.edu/students.
Your Responsibilities as a Stony Brook Student
As a Stony Brook student, you are responsible for knowing all the codes and conduct you are required to follow. For the complete listing of your responsibilities, please review the entire Code of Student Responsibility, which is available online at stonybrook.edu/conductcode. The Code applies to on and off campus (including virtual classrooms), and any student who is found to behave inappropriately will be held accountable.

Student Responsibility Statement
Each student is responsible for reviewing, understanding and abiding by SBU’s regulations, procedures, requirements and deadlines as described in official publications, including the Code of Student Responsibility, University bulletins, the Policy Manual and class schedules. These regulations are available on the Web at stonybrook.edu/policy.

Student Consumer Information Statement
Higher education is a significant and lasting investment. As such, consumer information — including institutional polices; student retention, employment and graduation rates; and financial assistance information — is available at stonybrook.edu/commcms/irpe/about/consumerinfo.html.

Equal Opportunity and Notice of Non-Discrimination
Stony Brook University does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, religion, age, color, creed, national or ethnic origin, disability, marital status, familial status, pregnancy, genetic predisposition, criminal convictions, domestic violence victim status, and veteran or military status and all other protected classes under federal or state laws. If you are a student or an employee of the University and you consider yourself to be a target of discrimination or harassment, you may file a complaint in writing with the Office of Equity and Access. An online complaint form and more information is available at stonybrook.edu/reportit.

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requires that individuals with disabilities be afforded equal opportunity in the areas of public services and programs, employment, transportation and communications. In compliance with the ADA, the University will provide reasonable accessible accommodation to individuals with qualifying disabilities and access to services and programs. For more information, visit the Student Accessibility Support Center at stonybrook.edu/sasc.
Students who take the Community Pledge will show their commitment to caring for and respecting others. It was recently updated in 2021 with more student input. You can take the updated pledge online at studentaffairs.stonybrook.edu/pledge.

What’s a Seawolf? We are Seawolves.

As Seawolves . . .

We commit to upholding the DIGNITY AND RESPECT of every member of the Stony Brook University community.

We affirm and maintain the FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION of all identities and intersections of race, culture, national origin, religion, age, ability, gender, sexuality, military status, and any other dimensions of human diversity that make each of us unique.

We are committed to CHALLENGING RACISM and any language, action, or policy, that promotes, permits, or contributes to systemic racism. To put antiracism in practice, we will use critical thinking, active listening, respect, and compassion in our interactions with each other and be open to change.

We hold ourselves and our community ACCOUNTABLE for our collective responsibility to create a more just society. We will challenge any language, action, or policy that promotes bias behavior and inequality. We will not allow discrimination to devalue our differences, which make us stronger and are a point of pride that we celebrate.

We will LEARN ABOUT, CELEBRATE and HONOR the diversity of our community and are committed to maintaining respect, promoting inclusion, and practicing civility. By doing this, we also contribute to the global community as we develop leaders, conduct groundbreaking research, and provide world-class health care.

Any questions concerning this policy or allegations of noncompliance should be directed to the Office of Equity and Access (formerly Institutional Diversity and Equity), 201 Administration Building, oea@stonybrook.edu or call (631) 632-6280. More information is available at stonybrook.edu/oea. A copy of our complaint procedure is available at stonybrook.edu/oea/complaint.
Commitment to Diversity
Stony Brook is committed to maintaining a diverse and inclusive campus environment. Diversity and inclusion are the cornerstones of a University where students, faculty and staff can discover their full potential. Bringing together people of different races, cultures and backgrounds provides the variety of perspective, thought and understanding necessary for open and serious intellectual inquiry. This is essential to SBU’s mission. It is just as essential that Stony Brook’s campus be welcoming, safe, accessible and free from discrimination. Fostering a diverse and welcoming campus environment will ensure Stony Brook is a place where all people and their ideas can flourish. The University’s efforts include a variety of diversity initiatives and programs. For more information on our diversity initiatives, please visit stonybrook.edu/diversity. Discrimination and harassment are prohibited by University policy. Any individual who is the target of discrimination of any kind, including xenophobia, is encouraged to report the incident to the Office of Equity and Access (stonybrook.edu/reportit). Stony Brook is committed to conducting prompt and equitable investigations and will immediately and appropriately address violations of University policy.

All-Gender and Gender-Specific Facilities Use
All members of the Stony Brook University community are permitted to use facilities such as restrooms or locker rooms consistent with their gender identity, in compliance with federal and state laws and regulations. Accommodation of the needs of our entire community also includes the creation of all-gender multi-use restrooms. Multi-stalled all-gender restrooms are available at the Student Activities Center (SAC) and the Walter J. Hawrys Campus Recreation Center, allowing LGBTQ* individuals, persons with disabilities who may require assistance from a companion of a different gender, and families with small children to freely use these facilities without facing discrimination or alienation. Single-stall restrooms are also available in various locations throughout our campus for any individuals with privacy concerns. For a list of locations, visit stonybrook.edu/commcms/studentaffairs/lgbtq/ourcampus/restrooms.php.

Student Rights Statement
Stony Brook University is committed to the creation of an environment wholly supportive of students’ academic and personal achievements.
Beyond providing requisite academic resources and support services, the University seeks to sustain an environment in which the diverse cultural traditions and ideals represented in both the campus community and the nation at large are valued, nurtured and promoted. In so doing, the University fulfills its mandate to prepare students to participate actively and productively in our larger society.

The following students’ rights reflect this mandate within the context of the campus community and will be viewed in the larger context of federal and state mandates:

- The right to participate in all aspects of the University experience, both in and out of the classroom, without harassment or discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, age, ethnicity, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, disability, marital status or status as a disabled or Vietnam-era veteran or other rights and privileges as may be protected under federal, state or local law.
- The right to participate in a free exchange of ideas and dissent from views on all matters of interest to the student body, both in and out of class.
- The right to organize and demonstrate peacefully, which includes expressions or actions that capture attention and attempt to persuade, as long as access to buildings and University community activities is not hampered.
- The right to free inquiry and expression by student media in accordance with professional journalistic standards.
- The right to personal privacy, confidentiality of records and individual self-determination.
- The right to not be harassed, sexually harassed, stalked, hazed or to experience bias-related harassment.
- The right to a fair and objective administrative review by a University Official or an Administrative Conduct Board, depending upon the level of the alleged violation.
- Maintaining a respectful, civil, caring and safe environment is the responsibility of all students.
- The right to file a complaint with University Community Standards, University Police, or residence hall staff when you believe your rights have been violated. Reports should be made as soon as possible.
- It is the right of all students to be safe and feel safe on the campus.
With the freedom that these rights afford comes the responsibility to conduct oneself with civility and respect toward the rights of others.
It is also the responsibility of all those given these rights to protect and preserve them for others, so that with vigilance we may move closer to the ideals that these rights promise.

Student Responsibilities as Members of the SBU Community
- Affirm you have read and understand the Code of Student Responsibility and the Rules of the Maintenance of Public Order.
  New students must acknowledge they have read the above documents to register for classes on SOLAR.
- Know, understand and adhere to Campus Alcohol and Other Drugs and Traffic Safety policies.
- Become familiar with campus support services.
- Be respectful of classmates, roommates, faculty, staff and visitors.
- Promote classroom conduct that does not interfere with the teaching/learning process.
- Take pride in the wide diversity inherent in the SBU community.
- Respect personal and state property and campus facilities.
- Promote a safe campus by adhering to campus residential safety policies.
- Lock room, suite, apartment doors; strictly follow guest policies.
- Report suspicious activities or persons to University Police or an official in a timely manner. “If you see something, say something.”
- Participate in the conduct review process as a complainant or witness in a conduct hearing.

Community Standards & Student Rights and Responsibilities
The Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards receives, investigates and resolves alleged violations of the Code of Student Responsibility (Code) involving non-academic misconduct by undergraduate and graduate students or by student organizations. Any member of the SBU community or visitor to the campus may bring a complaint against a student to the attention of the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards. The jurisdiction of this office extends to alleged misconduct that takes place on University-owned or controlled property; at any SBU-sponsored event; or at any off-campus location when the alleged misconduct is significant or has an impact upon other students or the mission and well-being of the University community.
STUDENTS’ BILL OF RIGHTS

In Cases of Sexual and Interpersonal Assault

All students have the right to:

1. Make a report to local law enforcement and/or state police;

2. Have disclosures of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking and sexual assault treated seriously;

3. Make a decision about whether or not to disclose a crime or violation and participate in the judicial or conduct process and/or criminal justice process free from pressure by the institution;

4. Participate in a process that is fair, impartial and provides adequate notice and a meaningful opportunity to be heard;

5. Be treated with dignity and to receive from the institution courteous, fair and respectful health care and counseling services, where available;

6. Be free from any suggestion that the reporting individual is at fault where these crimes and violations are committed, or should have acted in a different manner to avoid such crimes or violations;

7. Describe the incident to as few institution representatives as practicable and not be required to unnecessarily repeat a description of the incident;

8. Be protected from retaliation by the institution, any student, the accused and/or the respondent, and/or their friends, family and acquaintances within the jurisdiction of the institution;

9. Have access to at least one level of an appeal of a determination;

10. Be accompanied by an advisor of choice who may assist and advise a reporting individual, an accused or a respondent throughout the judicial or conduct process including during all meetings and hearings related to such process; and

11. Exercise civil rights and practice of religion without interference by the investigative, criminal justice or judicial or conduct process of the institution.

For information on how to file a complaint, please call (631) 632-6280, email reportit@stonybrook.edu or visit stonybrook.edu/reportit.

For information on options for confidential disclosure of sexual and interpersonal assault, please visit stonybrook.edu/titleix/resources.

This notice is provided in compliance with New York State law.
The Code of Student Responsibility is the campus guide for responsible non-academic student conduct. The Code also describes how to file a complaint if your rights as a member of the University community have been violated by another student.

University students and their guests are expected to respect the rights of others in the residence halls and in the classroom. Complaints of harassment, physical abuse, threats, bias-related acts of harassment, assault or abuse, sexual harassment, sexual abuse or sexual assault, stalking,* violations of alcohol and other drug policies, health and safety violations, theft, property damage and misuse of electronic communications systems will be investigated by the appropriate campus conduct body. Information about campus safety statistics and reports can be found on the University Police website at stonybrook.edu/police. Students may be arrested for violations of the law in addition to a referral to the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards. Significant violations of the Code of Student Responsibility and Alcohol and Other Drug policies can result in separation from the University. It is vital that all students and campus residents read, understand and abide by the rules, regulations and policies contained in the Code of Student Responsibility; the Policy for On-Campus Sales, Service and Consumption of Alcoholic Beverages; Substance Abuse Policy; the Rules of Public Order; and all applicable federal, state and local laws, including parking regulations.

Students, staff, faculty and visitors whose rights were allegedly violated by others on the campus are encouraged to file a complaint with the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards, Suite 209 Union, (631) 632-6705; University Police, 175 Dutchess Hall, South Campus, (631) 632-3333; and/or with your residence hall/apartment complex staff. The Advisory Committee on Campus Safety will provide, upon request, all campus crime statistics as reported to the United States Department of Education. The United States Department of Education website for campus crimes is ope.ed.gov/security.

The Code of Student Responsibility, Alcohol Policy and Rules of Public Order are available at stonybrook.edu/code.

*Stalking: No student shall engage in stalking. The term stalking means intentionally engaging in a course of conduct, directed at a specific person, which is likely to cause a reasonable person to fear their safety or the safety of others or cause that person to suffer substantial emotional damage. Examples include, but are not limited to, repeatedly following such person(s), repeatedly committing acts that alarm, cause fear, or seriously annoy such other person(s) and that serve no legitimate purpose, and repeatedly communicating by any means, including electronic means (cyberstalking), with such person(s) in a manner likely to harass, intimidate, annoy, or create a nuisance or alarm. (Code of Student Responsibility)
If you have any questions related to the Code or conduct process, please contact the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards at CommunityStandards@stonybrook.edu or call (631) 632-6705.

What Is Title IX and Why Is It Important to Me?
Title IX is a section of a federal law known as The Education Amendments of 1972. It states that “no person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.”
That means that sex or gender-based discrimination in admission, recruitment, financial aid, treatment and services, counseling and guidance, classroom assignment, grading, vocational education, recreation, physical education, athletics, housing, sanctions, discipline and employment, as well as any other activity, opportunity or program is prohibited by federal law at any school, including Stony Brook University, that receives federal education funding.
Discrimination under Title IX is prejudicial treatment based on an individual’s sex, gender or gender identity or expression. Sexual harassment and sexual violence are extreme forms of sex discrimination that include non-consensual sexual contact, non-consensual sexual intercourse and/or penetration (also known as sexual assault), non-consensual physical violent contact during consensual sexual contact, domestic violence, dating violence or stalking.
Stony Brook University is committed to the mission of Title IX and to eliminating sex and gender discrimination. We take our Title IX obligations seriously, and we will take immediate and appropriate action to thoroughly investigate sexual harassment and sexual violence to protect victims and to combat recurrence.
Title IX discrimination is not something that can happen only to females. Anyone — regardless of sex, gender identity or expression, or sexual orientation — can be a victim of Title IX discrimination, including sexual harassment and sexual violence.
IF YOU EXPERIENCE OR WITNESS DISCRIMINATION, REPORT IT.
If you have been a victim, or if you are aware of Title IX discrimination, it can be reported online 24/7 from any internet connected devise at stonybrook.edu/reportit. You may also contact the Title IX Coordinator, Marjolie Leonard, Assistant Vice President, Office of Equity and Access, at...
(631) 632-6280 or oea@stonybrook.edu, or one of our 24 University-wide Deputy Title IX Coordinators. A complete list of Deputies is available at stonybrook.edu/titleix/deputies. More information, including detailed definitions and a link to file a complaint, is available on the Title IX online resources website at stonybrook.edu/titleix/resources.

CONFIDENTIALLY SEEK SUPPORT SERVICES OR INFORMATION ON HOW TO FILE A REPORT. The Survivor Advocate and Prevention Specialist is able to assist survivors of sexual and/or interpersonal violence in learning of their options and resources both on and off campus. Individuals will never be forced to make a report. To contact Stony Brook’s Survivor Advocate, Samantha August, call (631) 457-9981 or email samantha.august@stonybrook.edu.

Definition of Affirmative Consent
Affirmative consent is a knowing, voluntary and mutual decision among all participants to engage in sexual activity. Consent can be given by words or actions, as long as those words or actions create clear permission regarding willingness to engage in the sexual activity. Silence or lack of resistance, in and of itself, does not demonstrate consent. The definition of consent does not vary based upon a participant’s sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression.

Alcohol and Other Drugs
Stony Brook offers extensive outreach programs to create awareness and education to prevent alcohol and other drug abuse. Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) offers education, consultation and referral services for students struggling with substance use, abuse and dependence. A licensed clinician will meet with you to answer your questions and offer support. Call (631) 632-6720 to speak to a counselor.
CPO’s Red Watch Band (RWB) program is a comprehensive bystander intervention program designed to provide students with the knowledge, skills and awareness to prevent death from toxic drinking when “every second counts.” The primary component of the program is a four-hour training session in which participants learn how to recognize alcohol emergencies and respond effectively. All participants who complete the RWB training receive CPR certification. Visit stonybrook.edu/cpo to learn more.

Another serious drug issue is heroin. Heroin abuse has risen to epidemic proportions in our country. Young people are at great risk for heroin overdose. Heroin overdose is preventable. If you suspect someone is having an overdose, call 911 or (631) 632-3333 for help immediately; you can save a life! Stony Brook’s emergency personnel are trained and equipped to administer NARCAN, a life-saving drug that reverses an opiate (heroin) overdose.

If you or someone you know is struggling with heroin or prescription opiate abuse, there is help. For more information, please contact Alcohol and Other Drug Services at the Center for Prevention and Outreach at (631) 632-6720, or Long Island’s Heroin Crisis Hotline at (516) 481-4000, or the New York State Hotline at 1-877-8-HOPENY.
The University’s Good Samaritan Policy encourages students to call for help in an alcohol or other drug-related emergency. Students may be reluctant to seek medical attention for incidents related to alcohol/drug consumption due to a fear of potential consequences. Under this policy, the student for whom assistance is sought and the bystander acting in good faith who discloses to Stony Brook officials, may not be subjected to University sanctions for violations of alcohol or drug policies.

Residence Hall Regulations
The offer of on-campus accommodations is extended only to full-time matriculated students as a privilege and not a right. Occupancy in campus housing is conditional upon acceptance by each student of a set of terms and regulations established by SBU through the Department of Campus Residences. In accordance with Chapter 416 of the Laws of 1988, the full set of rights, responsibilities and regulations for residence hall living can be found at stonybrook.edu/commcms/studentaffairs/res/safety/policies.
The University has the right, using established procedures, to suspend or withdraw accommodations, guest privileges or access to a campus residence to any person(s) for violation of these regulations, for health and safety reasons or for nonpayment of bills. In addition, the University can seek financial or other restitution for loss or damage to residence hall property.

Campus Safety and Security
We’re very proud of our outstanding safety record. It takes the dedication of many hard-working professionals and the vigilance and awareness of the community to keep us all safe. You can find a list of all safety services at stonybrook.edu/safety, but a review of services follows:
CAMPUS TRAFFIC AND PEDESTRIAN SAFETY TIPS

WHAT PEDESTRIANS CAN DO

• Do not use cell phones or other electronic devices while walking or crossing the street
• Pay attention to your surroundings
• Use marked crosswalks and sidewalks when available
• When walking at night, wear something reflective or carry a flashlight

WHAT DRIVERS CAN DO

• Don’t text or talk while driving
• Obey all posted traffic signs
• Slow down
• Watch for and yield to pedestrians
• Come to a full stop at every STOP sign

TRAFFIC SAFETY IS NO ACCIDENT

Bicycle/Skateboard Safety

The use of bicycles and skateboards on campus has the potential to create an unsafe environment and increases the risk of individuals sustaining physical injuries. Skateboarding and cycling are permitted on campus for transportation purposes only. If you are using a bicycle or skateboard to get to and from your destination, please remember to follow some basic safety tips, such as:

• Wear a helmet
• Use extreme caution
• Do not use cell phones or other electronic devices

Visit stonybrook.edu/safety for more campus safety information.
University Police
1. University Police is the primary law enforcement authority for the Stony Brook University campus and is an accredited law enforcement agency.
2. University Police offers various crime prevention programs designed to minimize potential safety risks. Programs include Rape Aggression Defense (RAD), Alcohol Awareness, NARCAN Training, Pedestrian Safety/Distracted Driving, Self-Defense, CPR/First Aid, De-Escalation Training and more. Visit stonybrook.edu/police for more programs.
3. Motorists are strongly encouraged not to use electronic or cellular devices while driving and to yield the right of way to pedestrians. Violations of the campus speed limit will be enforced.
4. University Police secures the north and south gates of the main campus during the hours of 11 pm until 6 am. Individuals who wish to enter campus with a vehicle during those hours must enter through the main gate and present a Stony Brook University identification card.

Residential Safety Program and Walk Service
Volunteers with the Residential Safety Program (RSP) are available to safely escort students to and from classes or residence halls at night. You can request an escort by calling 2-WALK (9255) on any campus phone or (631) 632-WALK through a cell phone. You can also ask any residence hall desk monitor or RSP personnel for an escort. RSP phone lines are active 24/7.

Theft Prevention
For those living on campus, always close and lock your door when you leave your room even if you are only going down the hall. Don’t prop open outside doors and don’t let people into your hall that you do not know or who do not have proper ID. Be aware that many crimes are crimes of opportunity. Don’t give anyone the chance to walk off with your valuables.
For commuters, make sure your car is locked and valuables are out of sight.

Critical Incident Management and Communication Information
Stony Brook University has a comprehensive Emergency Management Plan and Critical Incident Management system that is utilized in the event of campus, regional or national incidents. To receive messages, students should sign up by visiting stonybrook.edu/emergency/alerts/alerts.
In Case of Fire — Dial 911

Fire Alarms
Whenever you hear a fire alarm, you must immediately exit the building and remain outside until the “All Clear” is given.

If the Fire Alarm Sounds or You Smell Smoke:
• Stay low and crawl to the door.
• Feel the door to see if it is hot.
• Kneel against the door and open it slightly.
• If there is smoke in the hall, stay low and crawl to the nearest exit.
• Call University Police or activate the fire alarm.
• Take your room key and close all doors behind you.
• Use the stairs. Do not use elevators.

Before Fire Strikes, Plan Ahead
Take a few moments to pre-plan your escape before a fire strikes.
Write down your plan and share it with others.
• Know the location of at least two exits.
• Know the location of fire alarm pull boxes.
• Establish a buddy system for persons with disabilities.

Fire Drills
Investigations of fatal fire incidents have shown that the failure to take fire alarms seriously and quickly evacuate the building have contributed to fire deaths and serious injuries. Fire drills are conducted to familiarize building occupants with procedures for quickly and safely evacuating the building during an emergency.

Residence Hall Fire Safety
Review and follow these fire safety tips:
• Cooking is allowed in designated areas only...not in residence hall rooms.
• Halogen lamps, candles and combustible decorations are prohibited.
• Electrical appliances, such as toaster ovens, hot plates and space heaters, are prohibited.
• Do not overload outlets or use extension cords. UL-approved power strips with circuit breakers are permitted.
• Smoking is prohibited in ALL campus buildings.

Visit stonybrook.edu/ehs/fire for more campus fire safety information.
Emergency Communications

1. Stony Brook has a communications plan for emergency responders to ensure communications and interoperability with one another and with external agencies such as the Suffolk County Police and local fire departments. Emergency information may be communicated to the campus by way of our fire alarm systems, text messaging, email, website, social networking sites, campus televisions, radio station (WUSB 90.1 FM) and external media sources.

2. SB Alert: This communication tool quickly notifies students, faculty and staff in the event of a major emergency, such as a hurricane, snowstorm or fire. New students are required to sign up and may choose to receive alerts as emails, text messages or voice mail. To sign up for alerts, visit stonybrook.edu/emergency/alerts/alerts.

3. SB Guardian: This mobile emergency communication system allows students to reach University Police quickly during an emergency or when needing assistance. Known as the “blue light phone in your pocket,” the SB Guardian system allows the user to register information that is automatically sent to University Police when using his or her registered mobile device. To register for the system, please visit stonybrook.edu/emergency/alerts/guardian.

4. Campus Outdoor Siren: An outdoor siren system alerts the campus community during times when there may be an imminent safety threat. To hear a sample of the siren (which is different from fire/police sirens), visit stonybrook.edu/emergency and click on “Procedures.”

5. Digital Signage: Digital signage is installed in large assembly areas in campus buildings. The LCD displays can be centrally controlled by University Police during times when there may be a safety threat.

6. Voice-Capable Fire Alarm Systems: Fire alarm systems on campus in many areas have voice capability to allow evacuation instructions and other emergency message broadcasting.

Emergency Management and Response

1. Stony Brook University has a comprehensive Emergency Management (All Hazards) Plan that establishes the policy, procedures and organizational structure to respond, control and recover from emergency situations, using the National Incident Management System (NIMS).
2. An Emergency Management Team, including University Police Officers, Fire Marshals, Building Managers, Safety Wardens and Residence Hall staff, responds to and evaluates emergency situations using the Incident Command System.

3. The University Police Department (UPD) — in partnership with the Suffolk County Police Department (SCPD); Suffolk County Fire, Rescue and Emergency Services; and local federal agencies — has reviewed critical incident response plans and provided training to all UPD Officers. The training includes responding to the “active shooter,” annual firearms training, dealing with emotionally disturbed persons, and critical incident response, among other topics.

4. Our University Fire Marshals operate to provide fire safety coverage around the clock (24/7). Fire Marshals are highly trained for response to fires, fire alarms, hazardous material incidents, technical rescues and other emergencies. They work closely with local volunteer fire departments, facilitating the response to and recovery from emergency situations.

Your NetID Credentials

Your NetID credentials are how you access Wi-Fi, your SBU Google Apps for Education account, Blackboard, Computer Labs, Library Database, Print Quota and other SBU-provided systems. Students can find their NetID username and create their NetID Password by selecting “NetID Maintenance” on SOLAR. Once your NetID is set up, https://mypasswords.stonybrook.edu can be used to change your NetID password/passphrase: Only change your passphrase when you have time to update it on your various devices. Students who share their credentials with others are held accountable for all activity that happens with their account. Visit P109 guidelines for all IT related policies: https://it.stonybrook.edu/policies/p109.

Email Policy

All students are required to check their Stony Brook Google Apps for Education email account on a regular basis. Your SB Gmail account can be checked from any device or you may forward your email to any other account you choose. For the full policy, visit it.stonybrook.edu/policies/d106.
Student Health Regulations
It is a requirement of NYS Public Health Law §2165 that every student demonstrate proof of immunity against measles, mumps and rubella to attend SBU. This law requires the University to prohibit a student’s future attendance if he or she fails to acquire or submit the necessary immunizations. It is also a requirement of NYS Public Health Law §2167 that institutions, including colleges and universities, distribute information about meningococcal disease and vaccination to all students. New York State and SUNY policy requires all SUNY students who are enrolled in at least one in-person class, living on campus, or accessing in-person campus services or facilities to submit proof of their COVID vaccination. More information is available by visiting stonybrook.edu/immunizations.

Required Student Health Insurance Plans
Stony Brook has a required health insurance plan for all full-time domestic students that is automatically billed to the students’ accounts. Waivers for this insurance are accepted only if the student already has their own comparable health insurance. You must complete a waiver at the beginning of each academic year, by the first day of classes. International students are required to enroll in the International Student Health Insurance Plan. For questions about health insurance, contact the Student Health Insurance Office, 9 am to 4:30 pm, Monday to Friday, by phone at (631) 632-6054 or email studenthealthinsurance@stonybrook.edu.

Mental Health
Roommate issues, tests, personal problems and being away from home can all add to the stress of everyday life. Stony Brook — through the Center for Prevention and Outreach (CPO) and Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) — offers many programs and services to help you deal with almost any mental health concern.

CAPS provides students with help for coping with personal, emotional, psychological and family problems. Understanding and dealing with a situation before it reaches a crisis stage provides more options, therefore students are encouraged to seek help sooner, rather than later. Some students come for help with self-esteem or relationship issues; others after a trauma such as an assault; and others when they are feeling anxious, depressed, overwhelmed or angry.

To get started you may schedule an initial brief consultation by using our self scheduler on your Wolfie Health Portal (stonybrook.medicatconnect.com) or
As members of Stony Brook University, we acknowledge that the primary purpose of this community is education, including academic achievement, social development and personal growth.

In committing ourselves to study and work at Stony Brook, we agree to promote equality, civility, caring, responsibility, accountability and respect. We also recognize the importance of understanding and appreciating our differences and similarities.

As members of a respectful community, we will not encroach on the rights of others, either as individuals or as groups. We recognize that freedom of expression and opinion entails an obligation to listen to and understand the beliefs and opinions of others, and to treat others fairly.

We strive to be a responsible community. We are accountable individually for our personal behavior and development, and collectively for the welfare of the community itself.

We encourage all Stony Brook community members to celebrate and express pride in our community’s academic, athletic and social accomplishments, and to involve themselves in the surrounding local and global communities.

In affirming this statement, we commit ourselves to becoming dedicated, active and full members of Stony Brook University in each and every role we assume.
you may call the office at 631-632-6720, Monday through Friday 9:00am to 5:00pm, to speak to someone who can help you schedule your appointment and answer any questions you may have. Services are FREE for all students enrolled in a degree plan or taking at least six credits. Individual and group tele-therapy sessions are available.

Additional options for seeking help are through CAPS Crisis Line, where counselors are available 24/7 (365 days a year) via phone (631) 632-6720, any time you want to talk.

New this Fall 2022 is TimelyCare, a new telehealth platform that provides 24/7 virtual access to medical and mental health services and health coaching, right from your mobile device or computer. This service is free to all Stony Brook undergraduate or graduate students, taking online or in-person classes. To get started, go to timelycare.com/stonybrook or download the TimelyCare app (iOS or Android).

You can also participate in “Let’s Talk,” a brief, informal, confidential, free conversation with a counselor that is available in person at various campus locations. To register, visit stonybrook.edu/cpo.

If I seek counseling, will it remain confidential?

Yes, student privacy is important to us and counseling sessions are confidential. Nothing goes on your academic record. The only exceptions to confidentiality are when there is an immediate concern about your safety, the safety of another, or in cases involving physical and/or sexual abuse of a child.

I think my friend may be struggling with depression. How can I help?

First, show you care: Ask questions and show your genuine interest and concern. Second, get help. You can either call CAPS (631) 632-6720 or CPO at (631) 632-2748 to consult and get some guidance on how to get your friend the professional help they need.

One of my friends has a substance abuse problem. What should I do?

There are many ways you can help your friends. CAPS offers counseling and referral services for students struggling with substance use, abuse and dependence. Call (631) 632-6720 to speak with a CAPS counselor about your concerns and receive guidance for how to help your friend. You can also educate yourself about substance abuse and become a trained bystander by registering for the Red Watch Band Training, a comprehensive bystander intervention program designed to provide students with the knowledge, skills and awareness to prevent death from toxic drinking. Visit stonybrook.edu/cpo to learn more.

ALMA MATER

Stony Brook’s Alma Mater, adopted in 1985, is always performed at New Student Convocation and Commencement.

Sandy shore
Meeting the Northern sea
Ancient ground where newborn dreams arise
Scarlet, gray
Under azure skies
The morning of a lifetime lies in Stony Brook
Raise a grateful cheer for Stony Brook!

Youthful joys
Youthful folly, too
Ancient wisdom seen through youthful eyes
Lifelong friends
Bound by youthful ties
The morning of a lifetime lies in Stony Brook
Raise a grateful cheer for Stony Brook!

BICYCLE SAFETY

More and more students, faculty and staff are cycling on campus. Here are a few tips to stay safe while biking around Stony Brook:

- Always wear a helmet.
- At night or in bad weather, wear light-colored clothing and something reflective (free reflective vests are available through Student Activities).
- Obey the rules of the road. Bicyclists in roadways follow the same traffic rules as cars and should drive in the same direction as traffic.
- Know and use hand signals for stops and turns. Have a good rearview mirror and use it.
- Do not assume that drivers see you or that they will give you the right-of-way. Be aware of the cars around you.

which they can set in SOLAR.

Good Samaritan Policy
The Good Samaritan Policy encourages students to call for help in an alcohol or other drug-related emergency. Students may be reluctant to seek medical attention for themselves or others for incidents related to alcohol or drug consumption due to a fear of potential consequences of their own conduct. Under this policy, the student for whom assistance is sought and the bystander acting in good faith who discloses to Stony Brook officials may not be subjected to University sanctions for violations of alcohol or drug policies.

MEET WOLFIE!

Wolfie the Seawolf is the fun-loving mascot who loves Stony Brook Athletics and promotes it around Stony Brook University and in the local community.

Wolfie has been a part of the Stony Brook family since 1995 — just a year after the SBU varsity teams became known as the Seawolves. The fourth nickname in SBU history, “Seawolves” was selected from a list of more than 200 possible names by a 32-person committee comprising students, alumni, faculty and administrators.

There’s no doubt that Wolfie is a celebrity — he was the 2009 Three Village Sportsman of the Year and a finalist for Best Mascot in the Long Island Press Best of Long Island 2011 to 2015 and the 2017 contests. He was also featured in the 2011 ESPN College Gameday commercial with fellow collegiate mascots, and marched in New York City’s Columbus Day Parade. Wolfie’s favorite activities are cheering at Stony Brook games and having fun with SBU fans of all ages.

You can find Wolfie cheering for the Seawolves student-athletes wherever he goes. Be sure to say “hi” to Wolfie when you see him out and about. He’s always happy to greet Seawolves fans with a friendly high five.

Stay in touch with Wolfie all year. Check out the links below to visit the social network of your choice — then follow or become a fan.

To see more of Wolfie and all our Seawolves Athletics team, follow @SBAthletics on Twitter and Instagram.

For more information about Stony Brook, visit us on the web at stonybrook.edu.

Stony Brook University/SUNY is an affirmative action, equal opportunity educator and employer.
After a year unrivaled by any other in recent history, Stony Brook University and Stony Brook Medicine are celebrating the much-anticipated return to a vibrant campus this fall. We faced innumerable challenges during that time but the selfless efforts of our faculty, students, staff, medical personnel and other members of the Stony Brook community helped us weather the crisis and emerge stronger as a result.

As we transition to mostly in-person teaching, learning and office occupancy, it is with a deep sense of gratitude that we honor these dedicated individuals who proved that more can be accomplished when we work together as a team.

Truly, we are Stronger Together.
