Notes for Psychology undergraduate students
Week of April 6, 2020

Note: To see the links, you may need to use your Stony Brook email login.
Submit your news items at the following link for the next news blast:
https://forms.gle/kosxH1jsJmtBCfQx9

General Announcement

Additional guidance for all students (see updates on Pass/No Credit Grading)

Student Support Team: If you are facing a financial challenge in accessing technology tools (laptop, webcam, etc.) to complete your coursework, please reach out to the Student Support Team at student_supportteam@stonybrook.edu. We may be able to loan you a laptop or other device to complete your spring courses. We may be able to provide you with additional support if you are facing challenges or concerns in your pursuit of success.

SBU or Psychology Department News/Events

Fulbright Student Program:
The Fulbright program targets students and alums with U.S. citizenship from any major who plan to complete a Bachelor's degree by Fall 2020, Spring 2021, or Summer 2021. The program provides funding for overseas research, teaching, or study in any field and foreign language proficiency is not always required. Must apply by the September 11, 2020 Campus Nomination Deadline. Students interested in applying to be overseas during the 2021-22 academic year should attend a Fulbright Fridays webinar this spring. Click here for details and registration information. Note that all of the remaining information sessions for this semester will be taking place online via Zoom; offered on Fridays at 2:30 PM throughout April and May. Attending a webinar is a first step to learning more about these nationally competitive awards to conduct research, teach English, or pursue a Master's degree overseas. The same information will be presented during each session, please choose one to attend. Click here to view available dates and to register.

Fellowships, Internships, and Careers in Diplomacy Webinar
Wednesday, April 8 from 1:00 - 2:30 PM
With special guests Tiffany McGriff, State Department Diplomat in Residence, and Patricia Scroggs, Director of the Pickering and Rangel Fellowships.
These opportunities are typically open to students in all majors, however, U.S. citizenship is often required. Click here for details and registration information.
National Science Foundation (NSF) Graduate Research Fellowship Program (GRFP)
Information Session
Wednesday, April 15 from 1:00 - 2:30 PM
A first step to learning more about this nationally competitive award to fund STEM students pursuing a research-based Master's or PhD. This opportunity is open to students in NSF-funded STEM fields who have U.S. citizenship or permanent residency. Click here for details and registration information.

Job opportunities and career-related news

Research/internship/scholarship opportunities on or off campus
2020 Psychology scholarships: Two scholarship opportunities for junior and senior Psychology majors who are not graduating in May or August 2020. The deadline to apply is April 27, 2020. See the scholarships announcement for eligibility by clicking this link. To submit your application, use this Google form.

Other information

----------------------
Please do not respond to this email. Look for the contact person indicated in each link if a reply is requested.

Thank you,
Psychology Undergrad Office
For information about Psychology Advising, click this link or write an email to psych_advising@stonybrook.edu

----------------------
University support for students: the Student Support Team, Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS), Student Accessibility Support Center (SACS), Center for Prevention and Outreach, and more at this link.