One person from the group must have an assignment in that building.

Anyone in your group can make a room selection for the whole group after that individual’s room selection start day and time.

The person whose building it is and has the earliest start time is the one who should make the selection.

You must fill remaining spaces in the room, suite, or apartment in order to select the space.

You do not have to form groups to choose an assignment.

If in a group, you must select a room, suite, or apartment for all members of your group or edit your group prior to selection.

Gender Inclusive Housing

Choosing to live in GIH is an agreement for the whole year, and you will not be permitted to room change to a non-GIH space after being approved.

Similarly if you do not choose to live in GIH for the upcoming year, you will only be able to choose rooms based on the gender identity listed on your student record.

Appeals to leave or join GIH mid-year can be made to the Associate Director of Residential Programs for Administration and Services or designee.

Gender Inclusive Housing is not recommended or intended for: living with significant others, only specific people, and/or to get to a specific location within housing.
Gender Inclusive Housing

If you are interested, you will need to review and agree to all items on the application before being approved for Gender Inclusive Housing.

If you select not interested on the application, you will not be able to come back and change your mind later.

If you are changing into or out of Gender Inclusive Housing from this year to next, this may impact your ability to return to same space pending on your current spaces gender designation.

If interested in Gender Inclusive must apply by March 15 at 3pm, and after March 15 we will use the interest to determine demand of spaces.

When Should I Select a room?

Return to Same Room in Phase 1 - Great for when your biggest priority is getting back into your same space or building or with the exact same people.

Current Building Alone in Phase 2 - Your current space is not available or you want to return to same building to a different space. Choosing a different space could be more difficult if you have a later start day and time.

- Both of these options do not allow you to bring anyone with you. But if you all already live in building you may be able to get into same units if the space is available.
- Some spaces for large groups will be blocked in Current Building Alone week so do not count on all spaces being available in building.
When Should I Select a room?

Current Building as a Group in Phase 2 - Great for when your priorities are living with people and in one of your current buildings. Must be able to fill remaining spaces.

- Vacant Space Filter is an important tool starting at Friday, March 29th at 5 PM.
- Person with the earliest start day and time that lives in the building should be making the assignments.

Choose any space anywhere you are eligible in Phase 2 - Your biggest priority is going to a new building on campus. You want to move elsewhere in quad or on campus with or without people.

- Vacant Space Filter is an important tool starting at Friday, April 5th at 5pm.
- Person with the earliest start day and time should be making the assignments.
