Why does the university triple?

- The need for on-campus housing is growing
  - Just over 3000 new bed spaces have been built in the last 20 years to accommodate the increased demand for on campus housing.
  - New first year students and returning undergraduates with housing are guaranteed a space on campus
- Housing renewals from returning students are significantly ahead of last year, and enrollment into Stony Brook has increased
  - There isn’t a lot of off campus housing in the area as compared to other four year institutions resulting in a higher than average housing retention rate.
- The amount of students that have chosen to attend Stony Brook has been increasing resulting in more students looking to live on campus
Are all new Students Tripled?

- Roughly 90% of freshmen and new transfers who chose to live on campus are tripled this academic year.
- Last year a number of students (~40%) choose to remain in a temporary triple despite being offered space in a double room.
Making a triple work

Some tips to make your triple work:

- Organize your belongings
- Be aware of your roommates needs
- Spend time outside of your room
- Invest in earplugs / noise canceling ear phones
- Discuss the possibility of sharing larger items
- Let the little stuff go and learn to compromise
- Most importantly: Communicate openly and honestly
  - Your roommates are not going to know what is bothering you or what you need if you don’t openly communicate with them
Making a triple work

Fill out a roommate agreement:

- A roommate agreement can help you and your roommates discuss things to ensure that problems do not arise.
- Important to be open and honest with what your needs are and what you are comfortable with.
- Your building’s RHD or your floor’s RA can help facilitate this conversation.
When Issues arise...

- Communicate, communicate, communicate!
  - in appropriate and clear ways
  - be willing to compromise and work towards best options for all
- Talk with your RA or RHD on how best to approach
- Revisit the roommate agreement
- If having ongoing struggles, involve RA or RHD in a roommate mediation
What are the benefits of being temporarily tripled?

- All students in a temporary triple receive a credit of roughly 15% for the time they spend in a forced temporary triple*
  - This is could be up to $696 for the semester
    - Half will be credited to your account after the 8th week of the semester. The latter half will be credited towards the end of the semester.
    - Credits are applied on a prorated basis when ...
      - All three individuals have been offered
      - Someone accepts an offer/moves out
      - No one is on the waitlist after 10/1
What is the current Detripling process?

- A process to move one student out of the room to an available double and make the room a permanent double.
- Detripling is an opt in process for the people that are willing to move:
  - Each resident in the room who is willing to move can place themselves on the Detripling waitlist for their UGC Quad
  - Transfers and IEC students can also add themselves to any detriple waitlist as they are not restricted.
- Priority is given in the following order
  - Spaces will go to residents in that building first.
  - Spaces then go to residents of the Quad.
  - Spaces then go to transfers/IEC students outside the quad on that waitlist.
- For those that sign up, each resident in the room has their own number in the list.
  - If a roommate accepts an offer, other roommates on the list will be removed as they are no longer in a triple.
What is the current Detripling process?

- The Detriple offer goes to the resident with the highest priority (previous slide) and the next lowest number on the list.
  - Only one resident gets the offer
  - The offer is non-transferable
    - The offer cannot be transferred to a different person in the room.
    - It is tied to the particular student who signed up for the waitlist.
    - The person who accepts the offer, is the person moving.
  - The detripling wait list will go live on 8/28 at 1:00PM.
    - You can sign up to be in the list at that time
  - The deadline to sign up is 10/1 at 11:59 PM.
    - If no one from your room is on the waitlist, then you will stop earning the credit as of 10/2.
What is the current Detripling process?

- If a student is offered the opportunity to detriple, declines the offer and one or both of the other students in the triple is on the detriple waiting list, the room will continue to receive the triple credit until all the residents of the room receive a detriple offer.
  - Once all residents in the room who have joined the detripling waiting list have been offered the opportunity to move, the detripling credit will end.
What is the current detripling process?

- To sign up for the detripling waitlist you will need to visit Stonybrook.edu/res and click the housing portal link. You will need to login with your NetID and password.
- Once you login with your NetID and Password you will see Detriple Waitlist on the red bar at the top. Clicking this link will bring you to the waitlist application.
- Fill out the entire waitlist application, shown in the next slides, and hit Save and Continue at the bottom.
Detriple Waitlist

Please select a term below to start or continue with your application.

Complete this if you are an individual willing to relocate out your current temporary triple assignment to a new space within the building or quad when space becomes available.

In order to be considered for a move to detriple you must be added to the waitlist by October 1, 11:59 PM

If no one from your room is on the waitlist as of October 1, 11:59PM, the credit for your triple will stop as you will be considered a voluntary triple room.

Detriple Wait List Status

Students completing this waitlist application must be willing to move out of their current temporary triple assignment when a new space is offered. Multiple individuals from the same room can add themselves to the waitlist. We offer spaces in order; so if a roommate with a lower number turns down a move, this does not mean that move offer automatically goes to another roommate. The offer would go to the next person on the waitlist. Once a room is no longer tripled, any remaining roommates would be removed from the list.

NOTE: If you remove yourself from the detriple waitlist and choose at a later date to add yourself back on to the list, you will be given a new number and be later in the process.

If no one from your room is on the waitlist as of October 1, 11:59PM, the credit for your triple will stop as you will be considered a voluntary triple room.

How will I know if I am being offered a space?

- You will receive an email to your Stony Brook email address
  - The offer will give a space specific assignment for you to move to.
  - You have 48 hours from the time the email is sent to respond to the offer on the Housing Portal.
    - If you do not respond to the offer, it is automatically rescinded and you will be removed from the detripling list.
    - There will be no other communications regarding your detripling offer.
- If you accept the offer, you have 5 days to pick up the key to your new room and then the 6th business day to return the old key.
- If you decline the offer, the system will automatically offer the space to the next student on the list.
- If your roommate accepts an offer and is de-tripled, you will be removed from the waitlist as you are no longer in a triple.
- You cannot rejoin the detripling waitlist. If you already have had an offer, you will not be able to sign back up.
This is the email you will receive when you are sent a detripling offer:

Stony Brook Housing Portal to Me

Dear Jeffrey,

We are offering you a move from your current space, which is a temporary tripled room, to a permanent space in a double occupancy room. You need to respond to this offer in the housing portal. You can access the portal from the Campus Residences homepage at http://studentaffairs.stonybrook.edu/res/ and clicking on Housing Portal. Log in using your netid and password, then click on Detriple Offer. Choose Accept or Decline, as appropriate from the dropdown to electronically respond to the detripling offer. Please note, this is the only detriple offer you will receive and you cannot rejoin the detriple wait list. If you decline or do not respond, you will remain tripled unless one of your roommates is on the waitlist and they receive and accept an offer.

The space available for detripling is Langmuir-D108-2. You must respond to this offer no later than 08/28/2019 to avoid forfeiting the space. If you do not respond to this offer by this date you will remain tripled and the space will be offered to the next student on the detripling waiting list.

If you accept the detripling offer, you must complete the move to the new space and properly sign out of your current space no later than 08/30/2019. Failure to do so will result in the offer being rescinded and the space being offered to the next student on the detripling waiting list. You are responsible for picking up the key to the new space at the Quad office by 5 PM 08/30/2019 and returning the key to the original space by 10 AM the next business day. If you do not return the key to your former room by this deadline, the lock to that room will be changed and the cost of the core change billed to your University account.

Limited assistance may be available to help you move your larger belongings to the new space. For more information about assistance, contact your Quad Office Service Manager in the Quad Office.

Should you have any questions about the above information please speak with your RHD, the Office Manager in your Quad Office or contact the Office of Campus Residences. https://www.stonybrook.edu/commcms/studentaffairs/res/about/contact_us.php#QuadContactInformation
To accept the offer you should visit Stonybrook.edu/res and click on the link that says ‘Housing Portal.’ You will then need to login with your NetID and password.

From the landing page, you should click ‘Detriple Offer’ from the red bar at the top and it will bring you to this page.

To accept the detriple offer you should click the drop down and hit finalize my selection. If you choose not to move you hit finalize my selection.
