

STUDENT CONDUCT FORM

The State University of New York requires a judicial/conduct code review of all applicants for its study abroad programs. It is necessary for us to be informed of any record that exists for any participant. The existence of records at the participant's home university does not necessarily mean denial of admission to a program; however, the information must be reviewed by the Study Abroad Office on the campus responsible for the program in order for a determination to be made. Each applicant, regardless of home campus, is required to provide this authorization even if there is no record. Students must also inform their home campus Study Abroad Office about their intention to study overseas.

Instructions for Stony Brook Students: Please complete Section I of this form and then email the form to the Office of Community Standards (communitystandards@stonybrook.edu). Once you receive the completed form, scan it and upload it to your SBU Study Abroad application.

Instructions for other students (NON-SBU): Please complete Section I of this form and then take the form to the responsible office at your home campus.
