

Outcomes of Bachelor's Degree Recipients

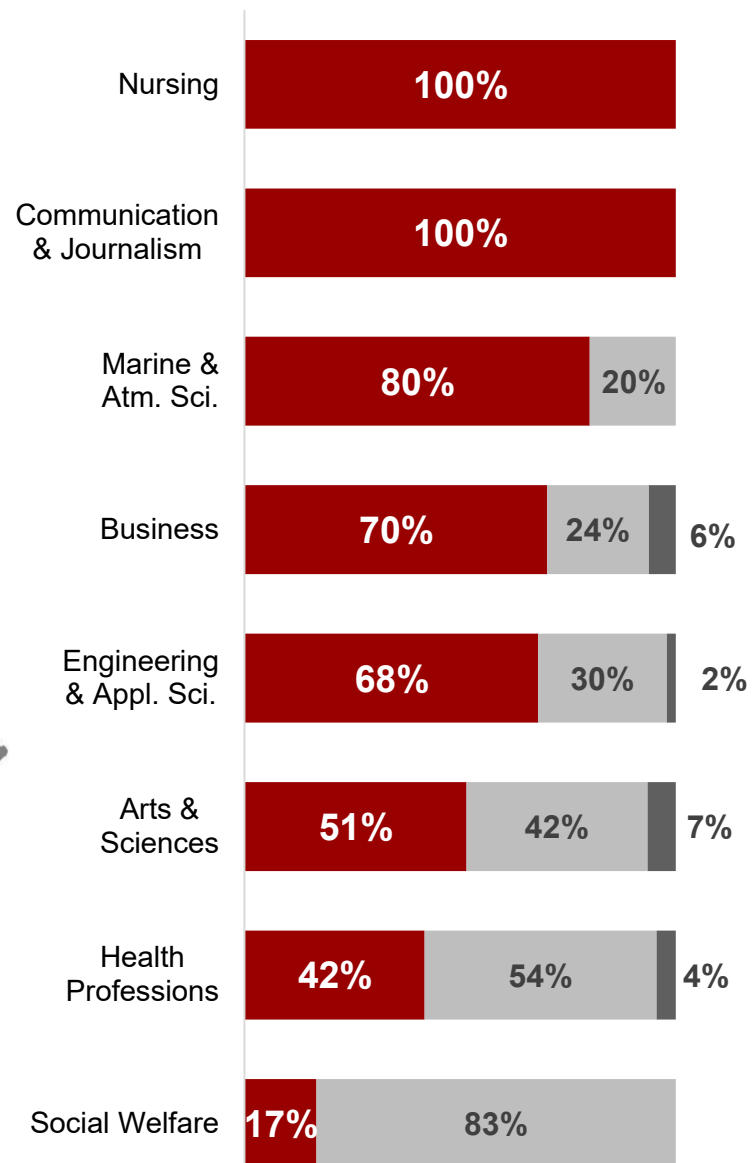

Stony Brook University collects information about its graduates in a variety of ways to understand their pathways following graduation. Employment and continuing education are reported by graduates and supplemented with third-party information resources and web searches. For the graduating class of 2025, 467 provided a valid response for a response rate of 10%. Employment locations and employer lists are sourced from third party data systems for graduates 2020-2025.

Aggregated salary data are sourced from the U.S. Census Bureau Post-Secondary Education Outcomes (PSEO) data tool of 43,242 individuals who received a bachelor's degree from Stony Brook between 2001 and 2022; all amounts are in inflation-adjusted 2023 dollars (release date January 28, 2026). Graduate school placements are from the National Student Clearinghouse and represent 1,205 individuals in the graduating class of 2024-25 pursuing further education in fall 2025.
