Policy Statement/Background:

None

Policy:

University facilities housing vertebrate animals used in research and educational activities are regulated by campus and federal policies, state and federal laws, and strict accreditation standards. The facilities are open for viewing through prearranged tours.

Procedures

Any individual(s) wishing to tour University facilities in which vertebrate animals are housed must contact the Director of the Division of Laboratory Animal Resources (DLAR) in order to set up an acceptable date and time for the visit. Various restrictions apply (e.g., maximum allowable number of people per tour group); the DLAR should be contacted for details.
