Minors or other majors of particular interest to students majoring in Business Management: Applied Mathematics and Statistics (AMS), Computer Science (CSE), Economics (ECO), Information Systems (ISE), Political Science (POL), Psychology (PSY), Technological Systems Management (TSM)

Business Management (BUS)

The College of Business offers undergraduate students a major and a minor in Business Management.

The major program offers students a solid foundation of essential business concepts and applications. In addition to courses in statistics, decision sciences, and general management, students study the fundamentals of seven business functions: accounting, entrepreneurship, finance, international business, marketing, management and operations, and sustainable business. Majors have an opportunity to concentrate in one of these seven business functions. The knowledge gained in the specialization assists students in finding employment in that area of a business.

Requirements for the Major and Minor in Business Management (BUS)

Acceptance to the Major in Business Management

Qualified freshman and transfer students who have indicated their interest in the major on their applications are accepted directly into the major upon admission into the University. Students who did not apply for the major and those who were not accepted into the major when they entered the University may apply to the major provided that their cumulative grade point average (including, for transfer students, college coursework complete at other institutions) is 3.0 or higher. Applications must be submitted to the College of Business Office of Student Services in accordance with the Registrar’s deadlines for processing major/minor declaration forms. Application forms are available on the College of Business website.

Requirements for the Major

The major in Business Management leads to the Bachelor of Science degree. Completion of the major requires 49 credits.

Transfer Credit Policy for students in the Business Major

Students may apply a maximum of 21 transfer credits toward the Business Major. Of the total 21 credits, only 6 credits may used to fulfill an area of specialization.

D. Upper-Division Writing Requirement

BUS 301 contains the necessary writing components which satisfy the Upper Division Writing Requirement for the business major, and also satisfies the Stony Brook Curriculum learning objective WRTD.

Grading

All courses taken to satisfy the business management major requirements must be taken for a letter grade. All students accepted to the business management major in the fall 2005 semester and subsequent must complete all BUS courses, ECO 108, and MAT 122 with a grade of C or higher in order to satisfy the requirements for the major. Students accepted to the business management major prior to fall 2005 must complete the following courses with a grade of C or higher in order to satisfy the requirements for the major: BUS 110, BUS 210, BUS 220 (formerly BUS 249), BUS 340, BUS 346, BUS 347, BUS 348, BUS 440, and BUS 441; AMS 102, ECO 108, MAT 122 or MAT 123, PSY 103 or SOC 105.

Business Research Program

The Business Research Program (BCP) is for high achieving business majors who have an interest in conducting original research on a business topic. Conducting research is helpful for those considering a career in business research and who want to make novel theoretical and applied contributions to the area of business at a graduate (MBA) or doctoral level.

Academic research in business can take many forms. For example, some academic research in business stems from a review of the literature that results in a need to address open critical questions, followed by the statement of hypotheses, collection of data (field or lab data in a controlled study) to test the hypotheses, and conclusions that build or extend the theory. Other research in business may involve the development of new methods or the modification of existing methods to solve important business problems, or perhaps the application of existing methods to novel applications in business. Still other research may rely on analyses from several existing sources, such as financial and accounting databases.
Students who engage in research and write a thesis will graduate with honors, will attend the university honors baccalaureate, and will be designated as such graduation and on their diplomas.

Students in the BRP program work with a PhD faculty member. The business faculty member will serve as an advisor to assist with research design and implementation that is showcased at the Undergraduate Research & Creative Activities (URECA) Campus wide poster symposium.

Eligible Students:

This program requires an overall GPA of 3.3 or higher and students must have successfully completed BUS 115 Introduction to Business and WRT 102 Intermediate Writing Workshop (each with a grade of B or higher). To graduate with honors, students must complete requirements of the BRP program and have a cumulative GPA of 3.3 or better. Students’ progress and performance will be monitored throughout the program. Students who perform poorly (below a cumulative 3.3 GPA) in their academic studies will be counseled and warned that they are in jeopardy of being dropped from the program. Following at least one warning, such students will not be permitted to continue in the program. Students entering as a Business major, either as an existing Stony Brook student or transfer student, will be evaluated under the same criteria for curriculum and admittance to the program.

Required Courses (each 3 credits):

- BUS 380
- BUS 495
- BUS 496

Acceptance: Students must be recommended by a faculty member.

Business Leaders Program

This program is for high achieving business majors who aspire to be entrepreneurs or top executives in established organizations in business, government, or nonprofit sectors.

The students in the BLP program will receive a College of Business Leaders award (certificate) at the College of Business graduation ceremony. Students in the BLP program partner with a corporate sponsor to design an experiential program for their senior year that promotes the synergies of what they learn in the classroom with the notion of applying these lessons in the context of the corporation with whom they are working. This capstone requires a well thought out project/plan with a reflection piece that is shared with the employer and the COB. Another option allows for students to complete a business plan working with a faculty member on an innovation or social entrepreneurship project. Creating a project that entails leadership on the Stony Brook University Campus requires the use of planning, organizing and orchestrating an idea from conception to a measurable end result. Therefore, this capstone will require a written implementation of a proposal incorporating research, analysis and an implementation plan.

Students in the program will be mentored by the director of the BLP program who will track their progress and arrange for group activities, including guest speakers, visits to organizations, and social action initiatives that represent leadership development opportunities.

Eligible Students:

This program requires an overall GPA of 3.3 or higher and students must have successfully completed BUS 115 Introduction to Business and WRT 102 Intermediate Writing Workshop (each with a grade of B or higher). Students entering as a business major, either as an existing Stony Brook student or transfer student, will be evaluated under the same criteria for curriculum and admittance to the program.

Required Courses (each 3 credits):

- BUS 495
- BUS 496

Acceptance

Applicants must complete the BLP application which includes a 500-750 word essay. The deadline is March 15, however applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, so you are encouraged to apply at any time prior to March 15.

Requirements for the Minor

The Business Management minor is intended for students pursuing other majors who seek a foundation in business studies. The minor complements their chosen major by introducing them to principles and techniques used in business and management. Students may apply to the BUS minor any time during their academic career provided that their cumulative grade point average is a 3.0 or higher. Applications must be submitted to the College of Business Office of Student Services in accordance with the Registrar’s deadlines for processing major/minor declaration forms. Application forms are available on the College of Business website.

The minor can be completed with 22 credits, assuming the appropriate prerequisite courses have been taken. All courses must be taken for a letter grade and passed with a grade of C or higher.

Transfer Credit Policy for Students in the Minor

Students may apply a maximum of nine transfer credits toward the Business Minor.

The course looks at retailing from both a consumer perspective (e.g., why does a consumer shop a particular retail outlet?) and a business-to-business perspective (e.g., how does the retailer decide which supplier to use?) Additionally, the course examines the various methods of retailing (e.g., bricks and mortar, bricks and clicks) and how these methods have evolved and will evolve in the future. The content of the course is useful for students interested in working in the retail industry, as well as for students interested in working for companies that interface with retailers such as manufacturers of consumer products or for students with a general management or entrepreneurial interest.
Prerequisite: BUS Major
Advisory Prerequisite: BUS 348 or BUS 349
3 credits

BUS 362: Principles of International Marketing

Course incorporates functions of the marketing organization whose responsibility is to direct and lead the total international marketing enterprise. It addresses the 4 P's of marketing and other marketing principles and how they apply to global markets.
Prerequisite: BUS Major
Advisory Prerequisite: BUS 348 or BUS 349

BUS 363: Brand Management

This course teaches students fundamental and leading-edge concepts in brand management. It will address the strategic importance of branding, provide theories and strategies for building, leveraging, and defending strong brands, and discuss current opportunities and challenges facing brand managers. The student will learn how to manage key relationships and functions that surround the brand, e.g., advertising, promotion, public relations, licensing, product and package design. A capable brand manager has exceptional strategic, quantitative, interpersonal, and presentation skills, and must be comfortable with decision-making and leadership. The course will focus on the development and application of these skills in brand management via in-class learning, case discussion, and project work.
Prerequisites: BUS major
Advisory Prerequisite: BUS 348 or BUS 349
3 credits

BUS 364: How to Build a Startup

Interactive hands-on course immerses students in real-world experience of business startup. Collaborating in interdisciplinary teams, formed before or in class, they learn structured methodology for testing assumptions underlying business ideas to determine viability of profit/not-for-profit business opportunities. Instructors and mentors guide teams to contact prospective customers and others, presenting conclusions each week. Mastery of methodology is key measure; teams forming companies receive post-class support, may compete for cash awards.
Prerequisite: completion of WRT 102; DEC Category C or QPS; U3 or U4 standing

Prerequisites: BUS major; U3 or U4 standing
3 credits

BUS 391: Management of Sports Organizations
Introduction of fundamental issues pertinent to any business - planning organization, staffing, and controlling. It discusses areas the sports manager is likely to encounter while conducting business, such as federal legislation influencing the sport business, employment related issues, funding and budgeting, risk management, site selection and customer service.
Prerequisites: U3 or U4 standing
3 credits

BUS 393: Principles of Project Management
Anything we do in both our personal and professional lives that delivers something unique within a finite time frame is a project. Applying project management tools and techniques improves the likelihood of success. Beyond schedules and budgets, project managers must demonstrate high emotional intelligence to lead teams, effectively solve problems, and understand the nuances of culture and contracts. In this "get-out-of-your-chair" classroom exercise laden course, students will experience project management concepts. Class discussions will focus on the "real world" application of these concepts. Students will also gain hands-on experience with Microsoft Project.

BUS 399: Intellectual Property Strategy
Concepts and techniques of strategic management are examined and applied to relevant cases involving the management of intellectual property as applied to a wide range of industries and innovations. The course will begin with a brief overview/review of some principals of management strategy. We will then survey the types of intellectual property, and some of the laws that support exclusivity in intellectual property rights. This will provide the foundation for more in-depth discussion of the relevant issues and examination of how companies and individual innovators utilize intellectual property to protect their innovations and profit from them. Course lecture and discussion will focus on the strategic uses of various forms of intellectual property, including patents, trade names, trade secrets, and copyrights. Students will explore the use and importance of intellectual property in building and sustaining a competitive advantage, as well as strategies used to realize the highest value from intellectual property.
Prerequisite: Business majors, Business minors or Entrepreneurship minors, or by permission of instructor; U3 or U4 standing
