IAP
International Academic Programs

IAP 599: Research
Supervised research course for students enrolled in foreign universities to fulfill the educational objectives for his or her current degree program at his or her home institution. Research proposals must be prepared by the student and submitted for approval by the supervising faculty before the semester and beginning of the credit period. Midpoint and final evaluation reports are required. An account of the work and the results achieved is submitted to the supervisor before the end of the credit period. May be repeated. Department Consent Required.

1-8 credits, S/U grading